

POLICE CHIEF RESIGNS

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Bernard M. Baruch called Tuesday for a clearer government definition of monopoly but said he did not urge repeal of any administration laws.

Baruch, a friend and business advisor of President Roosevelt, read a prepared statement of his opinion of business conditions before the senate unemployment committee.

He said he was in sympathy with the aims of the New Deal but there was lacking at the present time a clear statement regarding monopoly.

Baruch cautioned against "attacking the existing business system on a broad front for the sole purpose of breaking it into smaller pieces."

Last of Series of Sermons on Happy Marriage Is Given

Psychological State Has Great Deal to Do With Happiness

SOCIAL PARTIES HIT

Wears Down Nerves and Couple Becomes Irritable, Says Rev. Hamilton

By REV. W. R. HAMILTON

Psychological state has a great deal to do with happiness in marriage, asserted the Rev. W. R. Hamilton in his sermon on "Essentials of Happiness After Marriage" Sunday night at First Baptist church. "We usually find what we are seeking and expect to find," he added. "Disillusions, however, come to all who marry, because all are human after marriage as they were before. It is a good idea for you to take some 'rose-colored glasses' along with you when you begin your married life—for the other partner to wear."

A portion of the local pastor's sermon follows:

Some people begin their married life with a long round of social functions, and then an elaborate wedding. Showers, teas, dinners, and rehearsals, to say nothing of preparation of the trousseau, have often brought them to the end. Then another mistake is often added to the first by taking a honeymoon trip of sight-seeing and constant travel which still further wears them down to mere bundles of nerves. No wonder that some couples become irritable and ill-tempered even on their honeymoon trip.

These early days of marriage should furnish opportunity on a high plane, and away from distracting schedules, responsibilities, and side-issues to become better acquainted with each other in the new relationship of husband and wife. They should be days of sharing the finest qualities of heart and mind with each other. They should be days of adjustment which will bind the partners to each other in mutual love and confidence.

At best, however, there may come some tinges of somber purple to darken the golden joy of the honeymoon—because both partners are human; neither of them is perfect; neither of them has yet got the habit of thinking "by twos"—from the partnership viewpoint.

It might not be entirely amiss for husband and wife to realize, even in honeymoon days, that they will have to make adjustments. While the strong, uplifting current of love seems to sweep them in ecstasy upon clouds of ineffable joy, it is well for them to begin to face some of the realities of their new relationship.

Psychological State Important

The psychological state has a great deal to do with happiness in marriage. We usually find what we are seeking and expect to find.

Marriage should be entered with the firm intention of making it both permanent and a happy relationship. Do not enter marriage with a big question mark in your mind regarding it. That question mark would grow and become more and more difficult to forget. It would set you to looking for causes for discontent, whereas greater happiness will come by minimizing in your own mind the little things which you do not like.

Mrs. Hamilton and I were impressed with the love and wisdom of two young people who were married in our home last New Year's day. After the ceremony we wished each of them happiness in the new home which they were beginning. Each of them said with sincere conviction, "I am sure that we shall be happy." We sent them on their way with much greater confidence concerning their future happiness than if either of them had said, "I hope we shall."

MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it correct to introduce a mayor as "Mayor Johnson"?
2. Should one speak of a governor as "Mr.?"
3. In diplomatic circles, is the highest ranking ambassador the one who is longest in residence in Washington or the one longest in service for his country?
4. Is a man of lesser rank introduced to a man of higher rank or vice versa?
5. Is it correct to speak of the wife of a doctor as "Mrs. Dr. Davidson"?

Answers

1. Yes.

2. No, he is "Governor Lister."

3. Longest in Washington.

4. Lesser rank introduced to higher rank.

5. No.

Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(b) or "Dear Mr. Black."

(Copyright 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

(Continued on Page Three)

Germany's Air Force

BERLIN, Germany—(AP)—Germany's field marshal Goring intimated Tuesday that the Reich's gigantic new air force may find its first use for protection of German minorities outside of the Reich's borders.

His speech was part of the celebration of the third anniversary of the new air force.

Goring said the air force was created as a safeguard of peace but if forced to fight "it will be awful in action."

Britt Filled As Candidate

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—Judge L. S. Britt of El Dorado, filed his corrupt practices pledge Tuesday as a candidate for re-election as circuit judge of the first division, fourteenth judicial circuit.

Naval Appropriation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Naval committee recommended Tuesday $50,000,000 experimental fund for the navy. Of this sum $3,000,000 would be earmarked for construction of a new dirigible to replace the Los Angeles.

With final house approval the $250,000,000 emergency relief appropriation bill was sent to the White House for the president's signature.

Chairman Norton (D-NJ) of the house labor committee Tuesday appointed a seven-man sub-committee to draft a new wage and hour bill.

Deadline Is Near for Buying Tags

Auto Owners Have Only Tuesday Night to Make Purchases

Automobile owners who have not purchased city and state license tags have only a few hours left to do so without paying a penalty.

City Treasurer Charles Reynerson said his office would remain open until 9 p. m. Tuesday to accommodate late callers.

The auto license division of the revenue office here is expected to issue application blanks for delinquents.

Wednesday a penalty of $3 will be assessed on state tags and a $1 penalty on city tags.

Little Rock Man Killed in Crash

Everett Gibson, Attorney, Dies in Wreck Near Benton

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—Everett Gibson, Little Rock attorney, was killed late Monday when his car left the highway and overturned near Benton.

Gibson, who had been at Hot Springs, where his mother is ill, when the crash occurred. He is survived by his widow and two children.

Negro Tries Suicide Just Before Reprieve

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—Gus McKinnis, Memphis negro scheduled to be executed at dawn Tuesday, failed in an attempt at suicide Monday just before being notified he had been granted a 30-day reprieve.

Deputy Warden C. C. Woods said McKinnis tried to sever his jugular vein by drawing a piece of tin across his throat. He also cut a vein in his left arm.

"A guard on a regular inspection of the cell reached him just a minute or so after it was done," Woods said, adding that the negro would recover.

MIND Your MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it correct to introduce a mayor as "Mayor Johnson"?
2. Should one speak of a governor as "Mr.?"
3. In diplomatic circles, is the highest ranking ambassador the one who is longest in residence in Washington or the one longest in service for his country?
4. Is a man of lesser rank introduced to a man of higher rank or vice versa?
5. Is it correct to speak of the wife of a doctor as "Mrs. Dr. Davidson"?

Answers

1. Yes.

2. No, he is "Governor Lister."

3. Longest in Washington.

4. Lesser rank introduced to higher rank.

5. No.

Best "What Would You Do?" solution—(b) or "Dear Mr. Black."

(Copyright 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

(Continued on Page Three)

Governor Bailey Denies Report of Special Session

Says Tuesday Afternoon He Knows Nothing of the Matter

DEMOCRAT SAYS YES

Little Rock Paper Has Statements of Several Legislators

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—A report based on statements made by legislators that the Arkansas legislature would be convened in special session almost immediately brought an assertion from Governor Carl E. Bailey Tuesday afternoon that "there isn't anything to it."

Governor Bailey, who has been ill with a cold said:

"I haven't heard of it. It's all news to me. There isn't anything to it. I haven't even considered the matter. I went to the races at Hot Springs Monday and have been in bed with a cold today. I will be at the state-house later in the afternoon."

Early Report by Democrat

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—The Arkansas Democrat said Tuesday it had information that Governor Bailey planned to convene the Arkansas legislature almost immediately, and that the special session would probably be under way by next Monday.

Governor Bailey could not be reached at once for comment, but his secretary, James Bland, said "I cannot confirm it or deny it."

Usually well-informed assembly members said it was their understanding the call would go out this week for the session to start Monday, March 7.

The Democrat said its information was that the call would include two subjects as follows:

1. Highway bond debt readjustment.
2. To act on the proposed $750,000 building program for the state tuberculosis sanitarium at Booneville.

The bond readjustment program was reported to be an entirely different proposition from the recently discussed plan for refinancing the $145,000,000 highway indebtedness at lower interest rates.

Age Time Extended in Warring Nations

Youths of 19 and Men of 30 Are Being Drafted for War

By the Associated Press

In war-ridden Spain Tuesday the Spanish government drafted youths of 19 and men of 30 years of age, extending the top and bottom age limits for one year. To increase its army from an estimated 650,000 to a possible 780,000 men.

A Chinese army of 100,000 men was under a steady Japanese air bombardment, retreating through the southern Shansi province and leaving Japan's force in control of nearly all the vast area to the north and east of Yellow river.

Chinese asserted, however, that Japanese offensives elsewhere were held in check.

Chinese military headquarters announced that the first four-and-a-half months of the war cost Japan 375 airplanes and 20 vessels, including warships and troop ships.

The military spokesman said the figures for the August 15 to December 31 period were based on information obtained in Japan by the Chinese Intelligence Service.

The Chinese statement of Japanese air losses was more than three-and-a-half times greater than the latest official Japanese announcement which put the number at less than 100.

To Face Firing Squad

The official Soviet Press said Tuesday that the firing squad awaited the 21 men who will go before a military tribunal Wednesday in what promises to be one of the most sensational of Russia's trials of fallen leaders.

The newspapers Pravda, Izvestia and the Red Star, organs of the Communist party, the government and the army respectively, all denounced the prisoners as "beasts" and "spies" and said nothing could save them.

To Give Full Exposure

Izvestia indicated that past trials such as that of the famous journalist, Karl Radek, had disclosed only a part of the conspirators and crimes, but that a detailed exposure would be made in the forthcoming trial.

The press was particularly bitter against Nikolai Bukharin, former editor of Izvestia and Pravda, whose name was linked with that of Leon Trotsky as a leader of the alleged conspiracy.

Included among those involved with Bukharin were Alexis L. Rykoff, for-

Shooting of Page Is to Be Probed

Howard County Grand Jury Meets in Session at Nashville

NASHVILLE, Ark.—(AP)—Meeting for the first time since the early-November shooting of a Nashville alderman which resulted in a charge of assault with intent to kill being filed against Mrs. R. C. Kelly, mother of Governor E. D. Rivers of Georgia, the Howard county grand jury was empaneled Monday.

Prosecutor Byron Goodson said he expected the jury to be in session for three days. He had no specific comment on the case of Mrs. Kelly, asserting it and other cases were before the current circuit court term "as a matter of routine."

Mrs. Kelly, 66, formerly Mrs. J. M. Rivers, was charged in connection with the shooting and wounding of J. R. Page, 68, Nashville alderman, on the porch of her home at nearby Mineral Springs. She made $500 bond.

Officers quoted her as saying she had had "a disagreement" with Page, who was described by Governor Rivers as a distant kinsman. Referring to previous "family difficulties," the governor said at Atlanta his mother was "entirely justified" in the shooting.

Page, who recovered, denied that he was "at fault, in any way."

Old Liberty Cake Walk

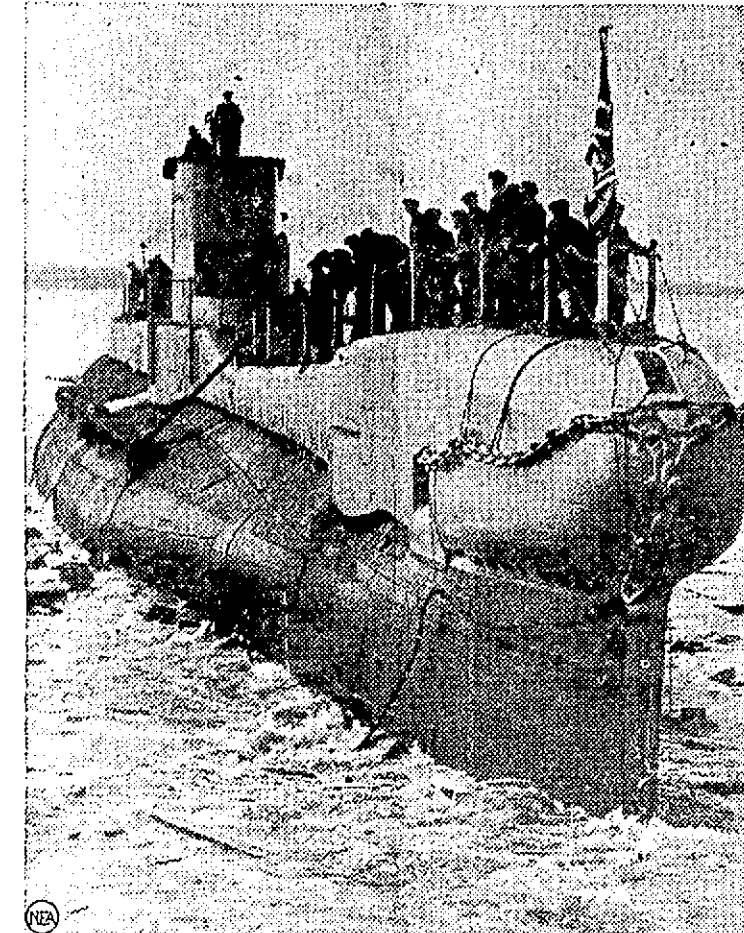

There will be a pie and cake walk at Old Liberty church Saturday night, March 5. The proceeds will go to the Sunday school building fund. The public is invited.

Fairview Box Supper

There will be a box supper at Fairview Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. The public is invited.

During Civil war days, persimmon seeds were used as buttons in the southern states.

Britain Launches a Sea Monster

The new 1090-ton British submarine Triumph resembles some great monster of the deep as she slides into the water at Barrow-in-Furness, England. The Triumph carries a four-inch gun and six torpedo tubes. Launched along with the vessel at high tide were two smaller submarines designed especially for quick diving.

District Ten Cage Tourney This Week

Tournament Will Open Thursday Night at Lewisville

The District 10 basketball tournament will be played at Lewisville this week-end, it was decided at a meeting of officials meeting in Magnolia.

The tournament was originally scheduled for Lewisville last week but was postponed due to flood refugees crowding housing facilities there.

The tournament will open Thursday night and will continue all day Friday and Saturday. The finals will be played Saturday night.

The Hope High School team is scheduled to play in the fourth game Thursday night. The Bobcats clash with Clumps High School.

Paul Philbrick, of Hope, former Missouri State college cage star, has been selected as one of the officials to referee the games.

State Relief Rolls Will Be Increased

6,300 to Be Added Within Next 10 Days, WPA Chief Says

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—State Works Progress Administrator Floyd Sharp announced Tuesday the revised quota for 12 Arkansas areas to provide for an increase of 6,300 persons allowed the state under the new $250,000,000 emergency relief appropriation before congress.

They include:

- Area Four—Camden, 1,505 men, 320 women.
- Area Five—Hope, 2,870 men, 530 women.
- Area Twelve—Russellville, 2,490 men, 420 women.

6,300 Will Be Added

LITTLE ROCK—(AP)—Floyd Sharp, state works progress administrator, announced Monday night that the WPA had started adding 6,300 unemployed to its relief rolls in Arkansas.

Sharp said the additions, to be completed within 10 days, would increase to approximately 35,000 the total number on WPA rolls in the state. He said this would be the greatest number on relief in the past two years and would represent an increase from 18,000 last November.

The state administrator estimated there are 75,000 unemployed in Arkansas today. He said conditions were worst in the industrial sections of the state, particularly in the coal mining and lumber milling regions. Sharp said the increase of 6,300 would be proportioned over the state but most aid would be given where conditions were worst.

He said the increase, announced Monday in Washington by Senator Hattie Caraway was being made in anticipation of the passage by congress of an appropriation bill now in conference between house and senate.

"We are so confident that the bill will pass we are going ahead with these increases," he said. "We added 6,300 a little while ago and will add 6,300 more this week. Of course, if the appropriation was not passed, I'd have to make up for it by drastic reductions."

Spanky McFarland to Retire From 'Our Gang'

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—George McFarland, better known as Spanky, who is going on 10, announced his retirement Monday. He is retiring from the Hal Roach "Our Gang" comedies, in which he has been one of the starring members for seven years.

Spanky, from Dallas, Texas, joined the group when he was a little past two years. He says he "kinda lost track," but he thinks he's been in 12 pictures a year, or $4 in all. His last was "Came the Brawn."

Spanky isn't quitting the screen. He'll play in feature films, having had some experience in them.

The Roach plant hasn't found a fat boy to succeed Spanky.

For more than 20 years, "Old Faithful," a geyser in Yellowstone Park, has spouted at average intervals of 65 minutes.

A Thought

God is a sure paymaster. He may not pay at the end of every week, or month, or year; but remember He pays at the end.—Anne of Austria.

City-Wide Easter Program Planned by Hope Pastors

Second Annual Service to Be Held in Athletic Stadium

HARRISON TO PREACH

Roy Anderson Is Named General Chairman of Arrangements

Preliminary plans were announced Tuesday by the ministers of Hope for the second annual city-wide Easter Sunrise service, with all congregations taking part.

Plans for the affair were outlined at a meeting of the ministers held Monday afternoon.

Those present were the Rev. Fred R. Harrison, pastor of First Methodist church; the Rev. W. R. Hamilton, pastor of First Baptist church; the Rev. Thomas Brewster, pastor of First Presbyterian church; the Rev. Bert Webb, pastor of Hope Gospel Tabernacle; J. E. Sandlin, V. F. Williams, A. E. Stonequist and R. P. Bowen.

Roy Anderson will be general chairman of arrangements. The Rev. Fred R. Harrison will preach the sermon, and the music will be under direction of the Friday Music club of which Mrs. F. L. Padgett is president.

Committees will be appointed later to arrange for transportation, printing of programs, loud speaker facilities, parking and traffic ushers and other arrangements to make the service available and comfortable to the large congregation attending the service.

The city-wide program will be held in the Hope High School athletic stadium if the day is pleasant, and in the High School auditorium if the weather is inclement.

Appeal Is Issued for Clothing Here

Red River Flood Refugees in Need of Old Shoes and Clothing

An appeal was issued Tuesday for clothing and old shoes for Red river flood refugees housed in a concentration camp a mile east of Fulton.

Persons wishing to donate old clothing are urged to bring them to the county health nurse's office in the Carrigan building, South Elm street.

Messengers will be sent after the clothing if the donors are unable to bring them to the office.

The WPA sewing room at Hope was busy Tuesday making comforts for the flood refugees. The National Red Cross organization is furnishing the material.

The only cash donation Wednesday was one dollar contributed by Mrs. Leon Bundy.

Red river at Fulton continued to fall rapidly Tuesday. All danger has been removed. A big task of cleaning up awaits refugees who will return to their homes when backwaters subside.

Auto Inspection to Begin Friday

Second Six-Month Period for Testing to Be at Fair Park

Louis Riffe, in charge of the City of Hope's auto inspection plant at Fair Park said Tuesday that inspection of automobiles for the second six-month period would not begin until Friday of this week.

Mr. Riffe said he was awaiting the arrival of new wind-shield stickers that must be placed on the automobiles following inspection.

He said more than 2,000 motor vehicles were inspected during the first period which opened last fall.

Traffic Division Is Discontinued

Department Wiped Out as Economy Move, Says Road Director

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—The traffic division of the state highway department was abolished Monday and H. D. Booth, division supervisor the past four years, was laid off effective March 15.

Highway Director W. G. Mitchell said the division would go out of existence Tuesday "partly as an economy measure and because its operations were maintenance division functions."

He said Booth would be retained until affairs of the division were cleaned up.

Six employees will be affected by the abolition of the division which will be absorbed by the maintenance division headed by Engineer F. A. Gerig. To take care of the traffic functions Mitchell said, a bureau of road information would be established at once in Gerig's department.

Personnel of the new bureau will be selected from "experienced" employees of the traffic department," Mitchell said. He did not say how many of the six employees would be re-employed. Last week 16 traffic supervisors under Booth were laid off because of "lack of funds."

"We intend to salvage the best parts and personnel of the traffic division and carry on," Mitchell said. "There will be no impairment of highway department services. Of course all of the services of the traffic division will not continue."

Other than saying the move was "entirely unexpected," Booth declined comment.

CRANIUM CRACKERS

(In this series of Cranium Crackers, a witty and courtroom query, unusual local statutes may be suggested by the legal decisions given.)

Jonathan Roth was visiting Ben Trompen, his college roommate, at the latter's home. In order to make Roth's visit more enjoyable Ben Trompen turned his car over to Roth to use whenever he cared to do so.

While Roth was driving the car, he negligently crashed into an automobile owned and driven by Alfred Berry. Berry was severely injured and his car was entirely wrecked.

As Roth was financially worthless, Berry sued Ben Trompen, claiming that Trompen was liable for the negligence of his son, operating his car with his consent. Should Berry recover?

Answer on Classified Page

John W. Ridgill Quits, C. E. Baker Appointed Chief

Ridgill Leaving Police Office to Join Mercantile Firm

HAD SERVED 3 YEARS

Mayor Graves Names Baker—No Additions to Present Force

The resignation of John W. Ridgill as chief of police and the appointment of C. E. Baker to fill his unexpired term was announced Tuesday by Mayor Albert Graves.

The resignation is effective immediately. Mr. Ridgill will join the mercantile firm of R. M. LeGrone, Jr., & company, South Elm street. Mr. Baker is a present member of the police force and has served as an enforcement officer 14 years.

"The resignation of Mr. Ridgill is voluntarily, a move on his part which he believes will better himself," Mayor Graves said.

Ridgill was appointed chief of police three years ago when Mayor Graves was inducted into office. Prior to then he served two terms as county tax assessor.

In joining the LeGrone firm, Ridgill said he was "glad to get back into the mercantile business," a line he has followed for many years.

"My work as chief of police has been pleasant and I want to express my appreciation to the men working under me and for the co-operation given me by Hope people," Ridgill said.

Prior to his entry into political office, Ridgill was associated for many years with the firm of Johnson-Billingsley & Ridgill.

Mr. Baker, appointed to fill Ridgill's unexpired term for the fiscal year ending about the first of April, has been an enforcement officer 14 years.

He was elected city marshal three terms. He served as chief of police under former Mayor R. A. Boyett, was chief field deputy under former Sheriff John L. Wilson, served as a member of the police force under former Mayor John P. Vessey and for the past two years has been night chief under Mayor Albert Graves.

The present police force besides Mr. Baker, includes F. W. Ward, Claude Stuart, Hugh Bearden and John Turner. There will be no new appointments or additions to the force at present, Mayor Graves said. However, the present force will be augmented with extra help when it is needed.

Acceptance of the position with the LeGrone firm, removes Ridgill as a possible candidate for county clerk, an office that political rumors connected him with.

Another possible county candidate was removed from political rumors when Dale Jones accepted the position as assistant cashier of Citizens National bank, replacing Ched Hall who resigned to enter the insurance business.

Farm Program Is Outlined by Agent

Smith Tells Kiwanis Club of Provisions of New Program

The new farm program was outlined in a speech Tuesday by County Agent Clifford Smith before the Hope Kiwanis club meeting at Hotel Barlow.

Mr. Smith urged all farmers who wish to participate in the program to immediately sign work sheets in order to become eligible.

On March 12 all farmers who produced cotton in 1937 will be given an opportunity to vote on the cotton marketing quotas. The question will be:

"Do you favor marketing quotas for cotton in 1938?" Mr. Smith appealed for the farmers to support this question and vote yes.

After supplies reach certain levels, marketing of the crops is regulated through the imposition of quotas. The farm act puts the quotas into effect, but they are subject to rejection by referendum vote of producers who vote on March 12.

The farm act intends to control the surplus by providing penalties on sales in excess of quotas, Mr. Smith said.

The program Tuesday was arranged by Johnny Wade, head of the agriculture committee.

Presbyterian Mid-Week Service 7:15 Wednesday

Presbyterian mid-week services will be held at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday. Following the service a meeting of the deacons and elders will be held at 8 o'clock. It is important that all officers of the church be present.

Hope Star

Star of Hope, Ark., Press, 1927. Consolidated January 18, 1929.

O Justice, Deliver Thy Herald From False Report!

Published every week-day afternoon by Star Publishing Co., Inc.
(C. E. Palmer & Alex. H. Washburn), at The Star Building, 212-214 South Walnut street, Hope, Arkansas.

C. E. PALMER, President
ALEX. H. WASHBURN, Editor and Publisher

(AP)—Means Associated Press
(NEA)—Means Newspaper Enterprise Ass'n.

Subscription Rate (Always Payable in Advance): By city carrier, per week 15c; per month 65c; one year $6.50. By mail, in Hempstead, Nevada, Howard, Miller and Lafayette counties, $3.50 per year; elsewhere $5.50.

Member of The Associated Press: The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

Charges on Tributes, Etc.: Charges will be made for all tributes, cards of thanks, resolutions, or memorials, concerning the departed. Commercial newspapers hold to this policy in the news columns to protect their readers from a deluge of space-taking memorials. The Star disclaims responsibility for the safe-keeping or return of any unsolicited manuscripts.

The "Untouchable" Mayor of Madras

PITY the poor mayor of Madras, Indian city of a million persons and capital of Madras Presidency on the Bay of Bengal.

Although J. Sivasanmugan Pillai is the highest ranking official of the city, many of his clerks won't handle documents he has signed, or pay him ordinary courtesies. Many of his fellow officials won't sit with him in conference. Although it is his duty to inspect the city, there are certain streets down which he cannot walk, many walls from which he cannot drink, hundreds of doors which he cannot enter.

Certain families who associate with him are liable to periods of punishments during which shopkeepers may not sell them goods, barbers may not shave them, mailmen may not deliver their mail, carriers may not take them water and school teachers must not allow their children within school buildings.

Even most of the temples are barred to His Honor, for Mayor Pillai is an untouchable, the first of his wretched class to ever be mayor of an Indian city.

***

HE WAS elected after a 10-year campaign by India's great Gandhi, but the wisdom of such a campaign and victory is doubted by even Gandhi's friends. For in the minds of millions of people of India the very touch of an untouchable is considered the touch of misfortune for any enterprise.

Lepers, thieves and beggars may use Madras' broad King's Highway, but Mayor Pillai is barred from stepping a foot upon it. He is despised and ostracized by the castes above him and there are no castes below him.

Gandhi has fought a ceaseless battle to break to break down the Indian caste system which condemns millions of its people by the sole accident of birth to an abject poverty and misery each generation. The untouchable cannot leave his caste and cannot rise above it. There he lives, there he dies.

***

THE election of Mayor Pillai is Gandhi's first wedge into the caste system. All the break has done thus far is to bring scorn upon the head of Madras and acute suffering to the mayor, who can never lose consciousness of his own class humility.

But Gandhi is not working for today, nor tomorrow. Centuries built up the caste system in India and it won't be torn down in mere years. Gandhi disciples who follow will see the untouchables rise to the level of other humans. Gandhi believes, as he strives for India.

Saving the World

DR. ERNEST H. WILKINS, president of Oberlin College, formulated five plans for participation of the United States in world affairs and submitted them to the Senate Committee on Foreign Affairs, with the succinct observation that "the United States cannot fiddle neutrality while Rome burns." Dr. Wilkins was a member of the War Personnel Board and director of Y. M. C. A. work during the World war.

His plans are: A defensive alliance with Great Britain and the Dominions; an international League of Democracies; joining the present League of Nations; creation of and participation in a new League of Nations; an All-American League of Nations.

Dr. Wilkins favors one of the first four plans and all his arguments for them ("we can either run the world or run away from it") ignore the one point that always has and probably always will hold the United States back from such alliances:

Policing the world with ships and men against a thousand and potential squabbles, invasions, aggressions, and bullying tyrannies which do not involve our interests or threaten our shores.

The Family Doctor

T. M. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

Science Has Yet to Determine How Healthful Air Conditioning May Be

(No. 422)

Few inventions seem to promise more for the comfort and happiness of mankind than those developed for air conditioning.

Air is the first need of mankind for life. Control of the air as to its temperature and moisture can provide greater comfort and greater health for human beings. Engineers have invented and manufactured the necessary devices for controlling the temperature and moisture of the air in individual rooms, in great buildings, in factories, in trains and other conveyances.

What we need to know, however, is whether or not human beings are less healthful or more healthful when they live in air conditioned rooms, and whether or not the human being is harmed in any way by changing from high temperatures to low temperatures, from high humidity or low humidity or vice versa.

When a lot of people get into a room, they alter the air in that room. Part of the alteration takes place from the fact that they breathe in air and breathe out carbon dioxide and other materials. The air is also modified by the fact that the human being or the body of any living animal is constantly decomposing and giving off materials. Finally, the clothing worn by human beings in a room may affect the air in the room.

In most places it is not necessary to worry about the amount of oxygen in a room. The leakage of air through the cracks around windows and doors is usually sufficient to maintain an ough oxygen in the room for the people who occupy it.

Most important from the point of view of comfort is the material that comes from breath, sweat and the secretions of the body, gases from the intestines and stomach and similar materials.

When people are especially sensitive to body odors, they may have headache, nausea or loss of appetite on coming into a stuffy room. Every room ought to have enough fresh air at all times to prevent the accumulation of objectionable body odors.

The most important change in the air of an occupied and well ventilated room is an increase in the temperature and humidity caused by the heat and moisture given off from the skin and lungs of the people in the room.

The chief purpose of air conditioning is to lower the temperatures and the humidity to points at which human beings are comfortable. In cold weather we rarely open the windows and let in some cold outdoor air. In warm weather, however, it is necessary to cool the air in the room and to cut down the amount of moisture that it contains.

Queen Victoria once traveled on a train at more than 100 miles an hour. A London engineer revealed in a recent speech. He said the speed was kept secret so the public would not become alarmed.

Southern California estimates the value of its tourist business to be $216,000,000 a year.

A Little Encouragement Along the Way

RAISING A FAMILY

By Olive Roberts Barton

Johnny Will Get Attention If He Has to Kick the Cat.

(No. 26)
Any child, pre-school or otherwise, needs attention. He at least must know that he counts for a lot with both parents.

If he cannot get a normal amount of attention one way, he will find another. He won't cry or coax for it always, either, as we might suppose.

What he does, very often, is to be as naughty as he can. He knows very well, the little schemer, that this brings people running right away. He gets scolded and slapped, maybe, but even that is better than neglect.

We have to go back to that mind of his again, I regret. You must be tired of my talking about minds. But if we are examining motives, that's where motives are tucked away.

Do you know what his mind is whispering to our Jack? It is saying slyly, "See, I want you, to get more attention. I have put something in you that has to grow, and grow and grow. I call it 'self' and I have my reasons. Never mind them. You're too little or too ignorant to know. Maybe you always will be ignorant about this. I'll tell you just this much, however. I demand that people feel important. But there, I see you are not listening, as I knew you wouldn't."

Well, here is our fine boy behaving most abominably for some reason. He hits other children and he steals the cookies. He breaks Grandma's specks, teases the cat, and chucks up the wallpaper. Oh, dear, our fine little Johnny! What on earth's got into him?

Maybe you have been nursing sick little sister and he thinks you love her best. Maybe he is jealous for any

For Love of Polly

By RACHEL MACK

Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
POLLY CHELSEA, heroine, stranded in London when war breaks out.
JERRY WHITFIELD, hero, the Yankee who sees her through.
CABELL BANKS, privateer captain.

Yesterday, skimming across the ocean, dodging British vessels, Polly says "good night" to Jerry, who is on watch. She is fearful.

CHAPTER XXIV

GOOD weather held. The Gray Gull was cutting the deep green water of the Atlantic now as if she ruled it. Fear gave way to a feeling of well being, rasping whispers turned to shouts. The sailors sang chanteys as they climbed the shrouds and washed down the deck. At night they told tales of the seven seas, wonderful to hear.

A score of the crew claimed to be excellent gunners, and these men boasted of what they could do to an English brig. They grumbled a good deal at their inactivity.

"Bide your time!" Cabell told them shortly.

It was Jerry who was more explicit. He was not the sort of officer who believed in hiding plans from the crew. From experience and memory he knew how such a course breeds uneasiness and discontent. Though seamen are rather an insensitive lot, he knew they could develop the nerves of caged animals, when kept in ignorance of what they were to face. And so he explained plainly:

"We'll hold the course we've taken and try to enter Chesapeake Bay. We'll run up the Potomac if possible. Then Captain Banks will go into Washington and get our Orders in Council from President Madison. Without our papers, we're floating deadwood. With them, we can go after English merchantmen and keep the booty. There'll be an honest division of booty, you understand. When we harass the enemy for our country, we benefit ourselves."

As a matter of fact, Jerry gave little thought at this stage of the game to booty, yet he knew the part that prize money would play with a crew; it would be the means of paying them and of goading them on to a valor that patriotism could not always inspire. This was the privateer officer's code, and Jerry was too honest to gloss it over with a shining idealism. In time, he wondered, would he too be thinking only of the prize dollars a captured ship full of tea and silk would yield? The thought disturbed and saddened him.

POLLY kept much to her cabin, but when Jerry permitted it, she would go on deck with him or with Cabell and watch what went on there. The sailors were respectful and agreeable to her and seemed to attach no omen of ill luck to her presence on the ship.

When she wondered at this, Cabell explained it. "I weeded out the superstitious ones to save trouble later on. Every time I interviewed a sailor I said, 'My first mate's taking his wife, this crossing. Furthermore, we've got a black cat in the galley.' Only one man refused to come aboard and he was a Portuguese."

Polly laughed at sharing status with the black galley cat. "It's a fine voyage," she told Cabell. "I'm not afraid of anything any more, now that we're getting close to home."

Cabell Banks made no answer. His own apprehension, like Jerry's, was growing keen again. It was time to cross paths with some British merchantmen coming up from Jamaica. The Caribbean was a nest for war sloops also; these, they reasonably suspected, were being sent north to close American ports.

"That evening well after sunset the two lookouts riding at the masthead yelled down in unison, 'Sail, ho!'"

"Where away?" the cry went up. And the answer: "To larboard!"

Jerry climbed the shrouds with his binoculars. He could, by that time, make out two galls, then three, then four then "God knows how many more!" His voice held a sort of awe.

He climbed down to the deck. "It's a convoy," he said to Cabell, and the gaping crew. "Merchantmen, from the looks of them."

"They're bearing down on us fast," he called, "and there's a war sloop on herding them!"

"We'll run for it," Jerry decided aloud. And to the bosun: "Pipe all hands!" Suddenly he remembered that Cabell Banks stood beside him, and Cabell Banks was the captain of the Gray Gull. "I beg your pardon!" he said in confusion.

"It's all right," Cabell replied when the whistle had ceased shrilling. "In danger let the best man take over. . . . Or shall we try it together? . . . Take the wheel. I'll climb for another look!"

As Jerry turned he saw Polly standing, wide-eyed, near a companion ladder. "Go below and stay there!" he shouted at her. She would not have dared disobey, for Jerry Whitfield seemed suddenly a stern stranger to her. They manned the sweeps then and wore ship; and when proper sail had been crowded on under Jerry's shouted directions, the Gray Gull fell away from the convoy and ran frantically north.

The convoy ships kept to their course, but the big warship, as if out of sheer devilry, gave chase. It was like an angry hen that would punish a sparrow for looking at her chicks.

Jerry at the wheel laughed and bared his teeth. Cabell, clinging to the ropes above, laughed too and gave news of the frigate's progress. "If night falls soon enough we'll lose her!" he shouted.

The Gray Gull seemed to be punting before the great spread wings that pursued her. Under those menacing wings there would be two decks pierced with long guns, Cabell calculated, and a crew of 400 men. There would be officers in gold braid, important young midshipmen, surgeons to dress wounds, carpenters to repair damage to masts and hull. . . .

Jerry Whitfield too was seeing those things as he carried the Gray Gull before the sloop of war; was seeing, as well, the gratings where a man could be tied and lashed at a captain's whim. Under his wind-whipped sea-beat his searred back creaked in a sort of angry frenzy while his thoughts seethed like the foam that spread from their prow.

"I'm like a drunken man," he thought, and was suddenly ashamed. There came to him a saying of his little New England mother's: "No man does his best when the devil's stirring him."

With a super effort of will Jerry laid his devil. He who was free under God's sky should not hate like a man in a dungeon. Perhaps no one should hate anything—not even British naval officers.

As he accepted this great truth and let it wash over him like a wave he saw his hands grow steady on the wheel. His body relaxed and he felt an inrush of strength. It was an "experience," and he could not account for it. It was his own, never to be shared. When night was almost fallen and one bright star stood in the northeast, the menacing sails were no longer to be seen. Jerry and Cabell held council and there was jubilation aboard the Gray Gull. They wore ship again and sailed southwest, for they were a little off their course. . . .

Jerry wondered if Polly was frightened. She had been at the back of his mind all the while, as is a precious burden one must carry safely home. He hoped she had kept the little dog beside her, for cheer.

(To Be Continued)

Political Announcements

The Star is authorized to announce the following as candidates subject to the action of the Hempstead county Democratic primary election Tuesday, August 9, 1938:

For Sheriff & Collector
REGINALD BEARDEN

number of reasons. Or perhaps he thinks everybody is too busy to pay much attention to him. Maybe he has been handed over to somebody to be taken care of, and thinks he doesn't count. Maybe he really doesn't get much loving or attention. Maybe he has been naughty, and feels the disgrace.

Not only small children, as I have said, but older ones, and grown men and women, who really should know better, often play for attention by misbehavior. Permit me to say it can get beyond self help and become an obsession.

It is bad to coddle the little child and feed his greediness for attention to satiation, if there is such a thing. But on the other hand, he needs to feel that he counts in the general scheme of things. He should learn a nice balance of everyday life, but he needs his share of love.

Many cures for this play-for-attention motive are worked by giving the little child a better place in affairs. He would rather have love and appreciation to bolster his natural pride than to resort to any outlandish methods of his own. He really would prefer to respect himself.

However, if he is a chronic demand-cr, and wants more than his share of limelight, if he has a normal home and decent, kindly treatment, I am not sold to completely on trying to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"Hell on Ice" is Arctic Classic.

"Hell on Ice" by Commander Edward Ellsberg (Dodd, Mead; $2.75) is an epic tale, and one of the rarest ever to come out of the heroisms of the Arctic.

The book is the saga of the Jeannette, which nearly 60 years ago slipped out of the Golden Gate one sunny day, sped by cheers, sirens and a woman's tears; the first expedition to seek the North Pole by way of Bering Sea. And the qualities of a great novel are in its gripping chapters.

For the Jeannette, altogether unfitted for the perilous voyage, faced troubles from the first day out and late summer found her wallowing in the waters of the Bering Strait when she should already have been far north. Followed more delay while a coal tender caught up, and finally the Jeannette was on her way again. But by now the tumbling, crushing ice floes were closing in about the little vessel and hardly before she had begun to fight she found herself inextricably locked in polar ice.

"

Society

MRS. SID HENRY

TELEPHONE 821

Let Fate do her worst; there are reliefs of joy Bright dreams of the past, which she cannot destroy;
That come in the night time of sorrow and care,
And bring back the features that joy used to wear.

Long, long be my heart,
Like the vase in which roses have been once distilled—
You may break, you may shatter the vase if you will—
But the scent like the roses will hang round it still.—Selected.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Cooper have recently moved to our city from Tex-arkana and are domiciled in the Jamison Apartment on South Grady street.
Mr. Cooper is connected with the Beal-Burrow Dry Goods Co. of Little Rock.

Mrs. Helen Ruffin Marshall, formerly of this city, later moving to Texarkana, was honored at the Central Christian church of Texarkana for her outstanding work in that city as a musician. The twilight vesper, service at 5 p. m. Sunday was dedicated to her and the entire program was under her direction. Mrs. Marshall was formerly director of the Central Christian church choir and it was in appreciation of her past services and her contribution to the musical life of the city that this compliment was arranged by her friends to present her in a beautiful program that was enjoyed by the music lovers of Texarkana. She presented two numbers from "The Creation by Haydn, and presented the following soloists: Mrs.
Will Quinn, Miss Margaret Timmerlake, Mrs. Lemuel Morrison, Mrs. B.
A. Watson, Ernest Walker, William

Utley, C. E. Oxford, and Dr. C. G.
Jieropont. Mrs. Lloyd White was organist for the service and Mrs. Nola Leet and Scott Starkey of the church choir sang the solo parts.

Mrs. Lula Green, Miss Ruth Dickinson, Miss Pearl Williams and Aubrey Green and Clarence Andrews were Sunday visitors in Hot Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Corin have as house guest, Mr. Corin's sister, Mrs.
Ed Poe of Kansas City, Mo.

The Brookwood P. T. A. will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon, instead of Wednesday afternoon. All mothers are urged to be present.

In celebration of the birthday anniversary of Mrs. M. H. Barlow, Mrs.
J. T. West was hostess on Monday at a beautifully appointed luncheon at her hospitable home on West Division street. The reception suite was brightened with a quantity of lovely spring flowers and the luncheon table was laid with an imported cloth of daffodils and dainty hand painted plates. The following names: Mrs.
M. H. Barlow, Mrs. A. L. Black, Mrs.
R. O. Bridwell, Mrs. J. A. Hoyer,
Mrs. Hugh Smith, Mrs. C. C. Sprague,
Mrs. Nellie Turner, Miss Maggie Bell,
Mrs. Clyde Hill and Mrs. J. T. West.
A beautiful birthday cake was placed before the honoree and was served with the ice course. Following the luncheon, coffee was served in the reception room, with Miss Maggie Bell presiding over the urn. The afternoon was spent in pleasant conversation.

Mrs. Frances M. Bogan of Luxora, Ark. Worthy Grand Matron of Arkansas Order of Eastern Star arrived in the city Sunday and will be the house guest for this week of Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Bates, South Elm street.
Mrs. Bates is Deputy Grand Lecturer of District No. 8 of O. E. S.

Mrs. D. L. Bush entertained at a very delightful luncheon Monday, at her home on West Avenue B, honoring Mrs. Frances M. Bogan, Worthy Grand Matron of Arkansas Order of Eastern Star. The luncheon table was centered with a bowl of lovely spring flowers and spring flowers adorned the rooms.

The first motion picture actress to receive a fabulous salary was Mary Pickford. Signed by Famous Players in 1915, she was given a salary of $2000 a week, plus half the profits.

Water illness and not illness; they are more closely related to the buttercup.

Linen Lady
Blouses
THE LARGEST SELLING LINEN BLOUSE IN AMERICA
AS ADVERTISED IN VOGUE
These blouses are now being shown at the...
LADIES'
Specialty Shop

GENERAL
ELECTRIC
Hotpoint
REFRIGERATORS
Harry W. Shiver
Plumbing - Electrical
Phone 259

SALE
Wed., Thur., Fri. and Sat.
(Four Days Only)
$16.95 COATS ..... $12.49
$16.95 SUITS ..... $12.49
$13.75 SILK DRESSES ..... $9.49
7.95 SILK DRESSES ..... $5.49
6.95 SILK DRESSES ..... $4.49
All New Spring Merchandise

The Gift Shop

THEATERS

At the New
The New theater takes pleasure in announcing the winners of the "Awful Truth Contest," which closed Monday night at the end of the two-day engagement.
The following winners were selected by the judges: Miss Idell Carpenter, 217 West Fifth street, Hope, first prize of $250; Mrs. T. Matthews, Ozan, second prize of $150, and Glen Parker, South Main street, Hope, third prize of $100.

"King of Hockey" the stirring Warner Bros. romance with the popular ice sport as its background, opens at the New theater today.

Staged in the atmosphere of Madison Square Garden, New York, the exciting incidents of the game, with the colorful crowds of spectators, are brought to the screen by crack hockey players, including Dick Purcell, the muscular lead, who was the former ice star of Fordham University.

Winning through its story with the speed of one of the big transport planes, aboard which its most thrilling moments occur, RKO Radio's "Without Orders" offers to picture patrons an exciting romantic drama of modern aviation.

Robert Armstrong and Vinton Har-worth have the principal masculine roles as rival pilots, Sally Eilers, as the airplane stewardess with whom both men fall in love, has the feminine lead. Frances Sage and Charles Grapewin are co-featured with this thriller. The rivalry leads to the several dramatic crises when Harworth's covardice is tested and finally proven in a thrilling finish above the clouds.

Lew Landers directed this film version of the Peter B. Kyne story under the production of Cliff Reid. The supporting players include Ward Bond, Frank M. Thomas and Arthur Loft.
This program is being sponsored by Hope Boys Band Auxiliary.

Last of Series of

(Continued from Page One)

ing each others burdens that they fulfill one of the highest duties of the union.

Disillusions will come
When the honeymoon sinks behind the dull mountains of reality—turning to buy and work to do, meals to prepare, and dishes to wash—or dips suddenly into the ruffled sea of life, the testing hour of marriage has come.
The feverish desire for possession has gone, and excitement is receding.
Many illusions are now dissolved.

The dress-up clothes of courtship cannot always be worn in the kitchen, the shop, the office, or the field. Miss Beautiful Darling turns out to be just plain Mary, and Mr. Handsome All-attention turns out to be just human John.

Now begins, or should begin, the business of adaptation. No two people are exactly alike. Since each of them has his own ideas, habits, and personal temperaments, adjustments must be made or there will be constant friction and unhappiness.

"I hope you will become better friends with the passing years," said an old and understanding minister to the couple for whom he had performed marriage ceremonies. This might seem to be a strange thing to say to bride and groom. And no doubt it seemed strange to them. But most married people can testify that it was really an appropriate wish. Husband and wife certainly should be good friends, and this friendship should increase with the passing years.

"I have performed the ceremony," another minister told the happy couple as they turned to leave the church or the parsonage. "But you are just now beginning to get married." The real ministers that marry people are the slow years—the joys and sorrows which they bring. "A happy wedlock is a long falling in love." Marriage is gradual, a loving adjustment of disposition to disposition.

Love does not spring full-grown either in courtship or in marriage, but it grows as a tender plant. This, the best beautiful flower in the garden of life, should be cultivated, protected, and nurtured with even greater care than any plant in the florist's greenhouse. Thus it will grow into a sturdy plant which can survive the inevitable difficulties of later life.

The married life, however well it be entered, and with however good preparation, must be lived well to be useful and happy. It will not just happen. It will not run by itself. It requires starting, feeding, and steering.

Build For Happiness

Do not expect happiness to come of its own accord or by accident. It is not a gift, but an attainment. Circumstances may favor, but they cannot create it. Too many young people hope wistfully for happiness to come to them; they should know that they have more to do with making happiness than any circumstances possibly can. They are the builders who take the materials which circumstances lay at hand, and construct happy homes—or unhappy homes—from these materials.

You hear much advice about neatness of appearance as a means of holding the affection of your life-mate. It is important to remember, also, that while you are adorning your person with neat and clean apparel, you should be attractive also in adorning your mind with cheerfulness, cooperativeness, and good humor.

Watch your temper and your tongue.
Temper is the slow to anger is better than the mighty, and he that releth his spirit than he that taketh a city.

Do not have the folly to discard common sense just because you are married. Temper is a good thing when it is kept a bad thing when it is lost.
Develop control of your temper. You are at your weakest when you fly into the face of your partner and snipe his love with your childishness.
Childishness is more disturbing to marriage than childishness. A mental maturity sufficient for the responsibilities of marital partnership is required for true happiness.

My roommate of early seminary days told me before he married that he and his wife were going to make it a rule that both of them would not lose their tempers, nor poet, nor have dis-

Hope Camera Club Has Its Initial Meeting

The first meeting of the newly-organized Hope Camera club was held Monday night at the Hope Furniture Company with 12 charter members present.

The following officers were elected:
President, Galen Hobbs, Secretary and Treasurer, Steven Bader; Publicity man, A. H. Washburn. The club plans to cover in its program of the future all of the phases of modern photography.

agreeable moods at the same time.
Through the years he has found this rule to be a good one—withoutstand-ing the difficulty of obeying it. A mark of true strength is the ability to restrain one's self from provoked wrath and littleness.

The tongue: "If any man (I wonder why he said 'man'?) it must have been because of the oppressed state of women in that day.) thinketh himself to be religious, while he brideth not his tongue but deceiveth his heart, this man's religion is vain!" (James 1:26).

We may sin against married happiness by not talking when we should.
It is a good idea for the home-partners to have a frank discussion of the irksome traits and practices which keep the home from being an earthly paradise. Instead of harboring hard thoughts about each other and treasuring up offenses, real or imaginary, it would be better for husband and wife to talk these matters over, and bringing them out into the open, keep permanent sources of discord. They should talk them over in a quiet, loving manner with the purpose of bringing harmony—not with the intention of attacking each other's motives. The purpose of these meetings of "The League of Lovers" is not that either of the lovers will seek to gain an advantage over the other, but that both of them will seek the well-being of the home relationship.

Another way in which the lack of speech may allow affections to cool is in the neglect of appreciation and praise. Admiration and praise make the love-life grow and blossom as the sunshine brings beauty and color to the American Beauty Rose.

On the other hand, the over-working of the tongue may lead to unhappiness in the home. Every fault need not be pointed out—at first, anyway.
Every detail of life's relationship need not be discussed as if it were a matter of life and death.

Words have the power to help, but they have the power, also, to hurt the marriage relationship.

Plan For Children

Hope and plan for children. It is God's plan that the human race be continued through the union of human hearts in the devoted relationship of marriage. When young people marry, they should be with a full recognition of the fact that they are entering the responding new souls into the world.

Let them see that it is their responsibility and obligation to maintain the stream of human life.

Let people who marry determine that they shall not only maintain the stream of life, but that they shall carry it on pure and undefiled. Even the spirit of fair play calls upon them to pass on that which they have received in as good condition at least as they received it. They ought to make the world better, certainly they will not make it worse by foolishness, selfishness, and sin.

Part of life's greatest happiness is found in the love of children. There are many people, no doubt, who look upon the hardships connected with the rearing of a family and fail to know that there are compensations which more than make up for the hardships—that is, in most cases. Sad to say, there are some children who are so selfish and thoughtless as to become more of a burden to their parents than a joy. But let us trust that concerning none in this congregation will this ever be true.

Christianity should influence our lives here on earth. We make a mistake when we think of Christianity in terms of the future world only. With regard to this most important of human relationships Christianity has a message.

When misunderstandings arise, and they inevitably will, what are you going to do. Here Christianity has its message of love and consideration.
If two people find that they do not love one another now as they once thought they did, they should double their attentions to one another, and be jealous of everything which tends in the slightest way to separate them.
Life is too precious to be thrown away in secret regrets or open differences.

If the romance of life seems to have faded from your marriage, and if you are discontented in the slightest degree with its conditions, begin reconciliation at once. Do not "just wait for things to happen." Renew the attentions of earlier years, draw your hearts closer together, and in loving desire for each other's happiness talk things over quietly and sincerely.

Acknowledge your faults to one another and determine that henceforth you will be all in all to each other.
Let not each of you look into his own things, but rather let him look for opportunities of pleasing the other, and you shall find in your relation the sweetest joy that earth has for you.

It should not be necessary to say that infidelity will bring unhappiness.
People who have the mental maturity necessary for marriage should know that already.

When you sit at the table with your beloved do you hide some affair with another?

Are you unworthy of the trust of your partner who is giving his or her all to the home relationship?
Has your hand knocked at the door of shame or been lifted to caress another? If so, that hand is digging a grave for your peace of mind and your happy home.

Be Christians at Home

Practice your Christianity at home as well as abroad. This, it seems, should be an unnecessary admonition because it is so self-evident. But observation and experience combine to show us that it is so easy to forget this matter of fundamental importance.
Unselfish consideration and thoughtful kindness, the essential elements of Christian conduct, have much to do with happiness after marriage.

Courtship should continue after marriage. Courtship, you remember, is not only the wooing and winning of a mate but also the discovering and displaying of the best traits of character and disposition. Courtship after marriage, as before marriage, develops the finer elements of the nature of both partners. Fair play in courtship before marriage leads to fair play after marriage—consideration of the other's wishes and preferences.

Unselfish love permits—even desires—the freedom of the other partner to think and act for himself or herself. In partnership two people do not become one personality or identical personalities. While they become one in interest, in hope, and in affection, they maintain their separate personalities. Neither of them should seek to violate the other's rights of personal action. "He" should let "her" have some thoughts of her very own;
"She" should let "him" finish some of the sentences which he begins.

We are sometimes amused and yet saddened by reading of the causes which are put forward for grounds of divorce. I read a few years ago of a divorce which was granted a woman because her husband would not permit her to persist in the ancient and popular pastime of sliding down the banisters. In her request for divorce she set forth that it was her delight to slide down the banisters of their home. Her husband objected. The appearance of his wife sliding down the curve, or the noise of it, or something—it was not clear to what he took particular exception—was not favored by him. She told the court he eventually resorted to cruelty in an effort to break her of the habit formed in her childhood.

While I do not advocate banister sliding as an essential of a happy marriage, I do think that husband and wife each have some rights to their own peculiar likes and dislikes except where these seriously interfere with honest convictions.

Fair play is an essential element of marriage just as it is an essential of courtship. Neither partner should expect to have everything his way, nor the other partner all the time. Unhappiness sometimes results from one, or both, of the partners feeling a sense of ownership after the ceremony has been said.

In the game of give and take, as it is played by married partners, there should be no effort to "keep accounts" with each other. One may do more of the giving than the other over a period of months or years, and then the other may have occasion to make a larger contribution. Where accounts are kept with each other there is likely to grow up a cold and calculating spirit which is antagonistic to the finest love-life. The give and take which characterizes a successful marriage is not just a mechanical thing but a natural outgrowth of a spiritual union. It is connected with and helps develop a proper philosophy for the whole of life.

It ought to be recognized that there are some important differences in the emotional natures of men and women.
By keeping this in mind you may sometimes avoid misunderstandings which would be harmful to both of you.
Man is often the creature of ambition and success in the eyes of the world.
His nature leads him forth into the struggle of life. During the earlier years of marriage, while he is seeking fame or fortune, a place in the world's thoughts and the world's affairs, love may be but the embellishment of life.

But a woman's whole life is a history of her affections. The heart is her world; it is there that her ambition strives for hidden treasures; it is there that she seeks for empires. She sends forth her heart upon love's adventure; she embarks her whole soul in the market of affection, and if it is shipwrecked her case is hopeless, for it is bankruptcy of the soul. It is true that:
"Man's love is of man's life a thing apart;

This woman's whole existence." Mutual consideration will lead the wife to remember that her husband, if he works in a store or office, is under a certain tension and strain all day long, that his interests compel him to look pleasant under all circumstances, all day long, to offend none, to say no hasty word, and she will see that when he reaches his own home he wants, most of all, to have this strain removed, to relax, to rest. He cannot be at ease if he is continually afraid of wounding his wife's sensibilities by forgetting some outward and visible token of his affection for her. Besides, she pays him but a poor compliment in refusing to believe that he loves her unless he is continually asserting that he does. Furthermore, by fretting for what is unreasonable she deeply wounds herself and makes her life dark and unhappy.

The husband, on the other hand, whose wife is kept at home all the day by household duties and the children, should remember that his return home is anticipated as a relief from the monotonous routine of the day. He should play fair by saving something of his charm and pleasantness for those he loves best.

After the bridal bouquet has since has faded and even the wedding ring is becoming sadly worn, true and wise life-partners may be, and should be great lovers than they were the day the bouquet was carried and the wedding ring was slipped on the third finger of the left hand.

Husband and wife stand at the loom of time and their lives entwine remembrances and hopes to weave a tapestry of unending beauty and imperishable worth. The home pattern is woven by the steady moving shuttle of experience while one of the fellow-workers provides the strong warp and the other spins the finer wool.

Happiness With God
The home should be unified by the love of god and a desire to follow Him.
Those couples who think to build a home without recognizing God in it to build in any area of life without God, Home life is no exception.
Christianity provides a spiritual bond in which helps to maintain harmony, When two violins are in tune with the same piano, they are in tune with each other. If home partners will keep in tune with God they will get along better with each other.

Happiness should not be the sole aim of marriage any more than the sole aim of the individual life. Service, usefulness, the happiness of others, and the glory of

Lane Glamour

FOR ROSEMARY LANE to wear in Warner's "Gold Diggers in Paris," Orry-Kelly has designed this metal cloth formal of chartreuse, brown and silver.
An interesting note is the broad girdle which simulates the high, low waistline. The full skirt is shirred on at the waistline.

Youth Who Killed Father Is Paroled

TEXARKANA.—Adjudge a juvenile delinquent, Fred Bill Parsons, 15, who decapitated his father, J. B. Parsons, 60, with a shotgun charge at their Bowie county (Texas) farm home near Simms February 16, was placed under indefinite parole to Sam Hall Jr., farmer of the College Hill community, near DeKalb.

District Attorney Elmer L. Lincoln said that as long as the boy shows no criminal tendencies, his freedom will be assured.

Age Time Extended

(Continued from Page One)

mer president of the Council of Commissars—or prime minister—who succeeded Nikolai Lenin, and five former commissars or cabinet ministers. Bucharin had been the official chronicler of "The Red revolution."

"Trotsky and Bucharin gathered forces for decades to overthrow the Soviet power," Izvestia added, adding that "nothing and nobody will save" the prisoners.

Army Plans Alleged Sloten

Red Star charged that Bucharin and the other alleged traitors stole secret army plans which they sold to Fascist powers.

"They were poking about in factories, institutions and army staffs with a single aim—to kill, blow up and check the progress of Socialism," the newspaper said. "The Trotskyist-Bucharin monsters and spies will not be left living in our Soviet land."

Pravda said the accused would "pay dearly" for the lives of Maxim Gorky, the famous writer, Vyacheslav Menzhinsky, once head of the Secret Police, and Valerian V. Kulbisheff, chief of the first five-year plan. Deaths of these three, previously dai to natural causes, were in part the basis of murder-treason charges on which the accused will be tried.

CLUB NOTES
Mt. Nebo
The Mt. Nebo Home Demonstration club held its first meeting at the home of Mrs. John Laha on February 8, with Miss Bullington and eight ladies present.

New officers were elected at follows:
Mrs. John Laha, president; Mrs. Erle
Turner, vice president; Mrs. W. A.
Powell, secretary and Mrs. Dan Laha, reporter.

The members of the club are Mrs.
John Laha, Mrs. Erle Turner, Mrs. H.
Turner, Mrs. Walter Jones, Mrs.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank the many friends of the family for the expressions of love and many kindnesses and also for the beautiful floral offerings extended in the recent illness and death of our husband and father. They will always have a place in our memory and may God bless each one of them in our prayer.

Mrs. R. F. Hunt and Family.

New Orleans Open Mardi Gras Season

City Is Scene of Gaiety, Big Crowd on Hand for Celebration

NEW ORLEANS.—(AP)—Carefree Rex and his bride of merry-makers were at the gates of New Orleans ready to storm in Tuesday and subdue the city with carnival merriment.

His advance guard, the parading legions of lesser kings such as Mo-mus, Hermes and Proteus, have already marched triumphantly through the streets and wiped out almost every trace of work and worry.

But old Rex himself will lead the mop-up campaign Tuesday, sitting at the head of his 20 gay floats, bowing graciously to the tens of thousands of his subjects.

For Tuesday is Mardi Gras; and Mardi Gras, for a hundred years, has meant nothing but fun and frolic, a full day of masking in grotesque costumes; street dancing, singing and uninhibited gambling.

The folks start at dawn. Just about everybody looks up the house, leaves the limousine in the garage and starts walking.

First, it's Zulu, the negro carnival king, who comes in early and parades through the negro section, stopping his floats at every saloon to quaff free drinks.

Then, it's downtown, to St. Charles avenue, the city hall and broad Canal street, to yell and cheer for the mighty Rex and risk life and limb scrambling for the trinkets the maskers (aristocrats and big business men) throw from the 20 floats.

Next, it's the grand old Boston Club, if it's possible to get within "seeing" distance, to watch Rex quaff champagne to the queen of carnival. The queen is a debutante and to be queen is 200-year-old New Orleans' highest social honor.

Dorsey Burns, Mrs. W. A. Powell, Mrs. S. J. Townsend, Mrs. Wesley Mcclennan and Mrs. Dan Laha.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs.
Dan Laha on March 24.

Mothers! Treat Children's Colds This Proved Way

More mothers use VapoRub than any other medication of its kind—they have proved it by use in their own homes. It was further proved in the world's largest colds-clinic. No "coughing" on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. Almost at once, the pain and irritation starts to loosen phlegm, relieve irritation and coughing, help break local congestion. Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

VICKS
VapoRub

STOP! D
LOOK! A
Listen! Y
For $51.50
And Your Old Set
Get a New $76.50
RCA
Victor Radio
Hope Furniture
Company
R. V. HERNDON T. S. CORNELIUS

CLASSIFIED

"The More You Tell, the Quicker You Sell"

RATES
One time—2c word, minimum 30c
Three times—3 1/2c word, min. 50c
Six times—6c word, minimum 90c
One month (24 times)—18c word, minimum $2.70

Rates are for continuous insertions only.
In making word count, disregard classification name such as "For Rent," "For Sale," etc.—this is free. But, each initial or name, or complete telephone number, counts as a full word. For example:
FOR RENT—Three-room modern furnished apartment, with garage, close in. Bargain. J. V. Blank, phone 5993.

Total, 15 words, at 2c word, 30c for one time; at 3 1/2c word, 53c for three times, etc.

NOTE: All orders placed by telephone are due and payable upon presentation of bill.

PHONE 768

Services Offered

SERVICES OFFERED—I do all kinds of hauling, moving, etc. Reasonable prices. Jack Scoggins, 801 South Walnut street. 28-31p

See Hempstead Mattress Shop, 712 West Fourth, for New and Re-built. Phone Paul Cobb, 658-M. 3-tfc

Wanted

WARNING—We have full stock law. I expect to enforce it on around my farm. Jim Reed. 28-31p HIGHEST PRICES PAID for Hogs and Cattle of any kind.

P. A. LEWIS & W. H. THOMASON
Phone 40 or 29 24-tfc

For Rent

FOR RENT—Apartment, with private bath. 402 South Pine street. Mrs. W. R. Chandler. Phone 906. 26-6tc

FOR RENT—7 room house on Highway 61 near Brookwood school. See Clyde Browning at Hope Confectionery. 26-6tp

For Sale

Mules, Mares, Jacks, Saddle Horses, all stock guaranteed. We deliver in trucks free of charge. 516 West Broad, by Texas Viaduct. Windell Brothers, Texarkana, Texas. 1-3-78tc

FOR SALE—New crop sorghum syrup. Every can guaranteed. 35 cents per gallon. Hope Star. 2620tdh

Lost

LOST or STRAYED—From my farm 6 miles on Blevins road, one black mare mule smooth mouth, weight 1100 pounds. Has enlarged right rear ankle. Reward. R. T. Briant, Phone 511. 28-3tp

LOST—Setter bird dog, white and lemon, year and half old, wearing collar with name of John Owen. Reward. See Homer Fuller. 26-3tp

Junior Class Begins Rehearsals for Play

Students of the junior class of Hope High School were to begin Monday the first rehearsals for the annual junior class play which will be held Friday, March 25.
The cast has been selected and will be announced within a few days. Title of the play is "Lady Spitfire." Sponsors of the junior class are Miss Lula Garland and Mrs. Roy Allison.
Lawrence Martin is directing the play.

Today's Answers to CRANIUM CRACKERS

Problem on Page One
No. Thompson is not liable. As a general rule, an owner of an automobile is not responsible for the negligence of a person operating his car with his consent in the absence of proof that the owner was negligent in entrusting an automobile to a person not competent to handle it.

Correction

The Cranium Cracker of February 14 contained an error in the answer. It related the story of Tony Palumbo who deliberately started counting 21 guests at a dinner party so Bradford Borden would have to pay. Tony was to count the diners and each seventh guest would rise, the counting continuing until only one was left. He would pay the bill. How did Tony count? The Cranium Cracker answer should have read:
"Tony began his count with the man who sat in the NINTH chair to Borden's right, counting around the table in clockwise direction until all but Borden were eliminated."

IN THE PROBATE COURT OF HEMPSTEAD COUNTY, ARKANSAS

IN THE MATTER OF THE ESTATE OF L. A. PARLIER, DECEASED

NOTICE OF APPLICATION TO SELL LANDS TO PAY DEBTS

NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the Estate of L. A. Parlier, Deceased, will make application to the Probate Court of Hempstead County, Arkansas, on the 28th day of March, 1938, for an order to sell the lands belonging to said Estate, or as much thereof as may be necessary for the purpose of paying the debts of said Estate; said lands being described as follows:
The Northeast Quarter of the South west Quarter of Section 1, and the Southeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter of Section 2, all in Township 12 South, Range 28 West, containing 80 acres, in Hempstead County, Arkansas.

WITNESS my hand this 21st day of February, 1938.
STEVE ATKINS Administrator

March 1, 8, 15, 22.

BARBS

U. S. plans radio broadcasts to counteract German influence in South America. In a showdown between Charlie McCarthy and Hitler, we'll knock on wood.
Retired army officer says national defense has become a political football. Budget observers say the team operates with an unbalanced line.
Earl Browder commends Stalin's mass executions and says that American communists should learn much from Russian communist methods. The certainly should.

The New Orleans man who bought a marriage license with $2 he won in a slot machine may be branded as an incurable gambler.
Roosevelt favors spending millions for super highways to help end the recession, but many fear there is no royal road to prosperity.

British censor board forbids children under 16 to see "Snow White" on the theory they might be frightened. Are these the same children who are taught the use of gas masks?

A recision of the Bible is under way, but most people have already revised it to suit themselves.

Champion Tennis Player

HORIZONTAL

1,6 Pictured tennis champion.
11 Olive shrub.
12 Threefold.
13 Kind of sponge spicule.
15 Goddess of youth.
16 Scarlet.
17 Paid publicity.
18 Striped fabric.
20 Being.
21 Musical note.
22 To soak flax.
23 He won three championships 48 Wine vessel.
48 To scatter.
50 He was a year.
28 Harbor.
31 Lubricant.
32 Pribric pear.
35 To ignore.
36 Onager.
37 Angry.
38 Bronze.
39 To decay.
41 Aurora.
43 Mesh of lace.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

14 Sailors.
15 Living in pleasure.
16 He is a —
19 He was chosen the No. 1 — of last year.
23 To marry.
24 Canoe.
25 Circular wall.
26 Otherwise.
27 Neither.
29 Beer.
30 Force.
31 Skillet.
34 Supper.
40 Animal.
42 Kilns.
43 Poems.
45 Joker.
47 Acidity.
48 Also.
49 Eagle.
51 Before.
52 Witticism.
54 Blackbird.
55 Turnor.
56 Street.
59 Sun god.

VERTICAL

1 To accomplish.
2 Ancient.
3 Requires.
4 Ridge.
5 Crown.
7 Indian.
8 To preclude.
9 Swimming.
10 Half an em.
61 Russian empress.
49 Animal.
42 Kilns.
43 Poems.
45 Joker.
47 Acidity.
48 Also.
49 Eagle.
51 Before.
52 Witticism.
54 Blackbird.
55 Turnor.
56 Street.
59 Sun god.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE . . . . with . . . Major Hoople

HM-M-YES, PROFESSOR, MY OCCUPATION IS THAT OF A GENTLEMAN OF LEISURE—HAR-R-RUMF—UMME: THE HOOPLE FORTUNE, ACQUIRED FROM THE SALE OF A MILLION-ACRE SHEEP RANCH, THE LARGEST IN AUSTRALIA, LEFT ME WITH AMPLE MEANS—HOW HUM?

UM-M-I THINK I RECOGNIZE SYMPTOMS OF A CERTAIN FORM OF ABERRATION THAT OFTEN ATTACKS MEN OF MENTAL AND PHYSICAL INACTIVITY—IN TIME THEY SUFFER FROM HALLUCINATIONS—SOMEONE IS PURSUING THEM—AND THEN AGAIN THEY HEAR VOICES!

WAIT TILL I GO TO WORK ON HIM AND HE'LL GO TO WORK!

A TOUGH PATIENT TO CURE, PROFESSOR—

3-1

BOOTS AND HER BUDDIES

HELLO WHERE IS CECIL? I'M SURPRISED THAT YOU'D LET HIM OUT OF YOUR SIGHT

WHY, . . . .

YOU NEEDN'T TRY TO EXPLAIN, DARLING! WE ALL UNDERSTAND

Boots Won't Be Prejudiced

DID YOU HEAR THAT, WILLIE? I NEVER SAW SUCH A RUDE PERSON! SHE HAD NO RIGHT TO SPEAK TO ME LIKE THAT

AW, WELL, THIS SORT OF FOLKS— YOU KNOW

BUT—CECIL ISN'T LIKE THAT! I'VE NEVER SEEN HIM RUDE TO ANYONE! AFTER ALL— WE CAN'T BLAME HIM FOR THE ACTIONS OF HIS FRIENDS

ALLEY OOP

HEY, FOOLY LOOK— IT SEEMS TIME QUEEN UMPA IS GITTIN' KINDA HIGH-HANDED!

QUEEN UMPA? SAY, HAVEN'T YOU HEARD? IT AIN'T HER DOIN'S, IT'S THAT EENY BIRD.

WHAT? EENY RUNNIN' MOO? MY GOSH, HOW COME?

WHAT'S HAPPENED TO UMPA?

EENY DUPED TH' GALS, ORGANIZED A CLUB. THEY'RE HAIRSHIRTS NOW LED BY THAT DUB, A DICTATOR. SHE IS—AN' HER WORD IS LAW! THIS'LL BE TH' WORST MESS YOU EVER SAW!

Breakers Ahead—As Usual

HAIRSHIRTS MY EYE! BOSH!

LAY OFF'N THIS KID!! GOSH SAKES, SUCH GOIN'S ON IN A CIVILIZED COUNTRY!

WHAT DO I CARE ABOUT YER OL' DICTATOR? BAH! ALL RIGHT, NOW YOU RUN ALONG 'FORE Y'GIT HURT!

WE'LL PROBABLY ALL END UP IN A JAM, BUT COME ON, KID, IT'S TIME TO SCRAM!

THE PIT

WASH TUBBS

MAN, WOT A HAUL! AT FOIST I THOUGHT DEM GUYS WAS DE OWNERS OF DAT HOUSE.

WHEE! LOOKIT THE SWELL OVERCOAT DAT LUMBAGO GUY WUZ WEARIN'.

MY CLOTHES! THEY TOOK MY CLOTHES! YOU IDIOT! YOU IMBECHLE! DIDN'T YOU HEAR ME CALLING FOR HELP?

OF COURSE, BUT I FIGGERED IT WAS YOUR LUMBAGO AGAIN

Now They're in For It

GET ME INTO BED, START A FIRE, AND LET ME DIE. OH, HOW I SUFFER!

MEANWHILE, THE REAL OWNERS OF THE HOUSE RETURN.

PAW! LOOK! THERE'S SMOKE COMIN OUT OF OUR CHIMNEY.

PROWLERS AGAIN! QUICK, EMMA, WHERE'S MY SHOTGUN? GIT THE SHERIFF!

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

IT WAS SURE NICE OF UNCLE JONATHAN TO BUY US TICKETS TO THIS SHOW AND TAKE CARE OF BUTCH, MOM!

WOULD YOU MIND NOT TALKING?

SAY, MISTER, IF YOU HAD AN UNCLE LIKE MINE, YOU'D TALK, TOO!

Change of Address

MY, BUT THINGS ARE SURELY DIFFERENT SINCE UNCLE JONATHAN CAME TO LIVE WITH US! WE HAVE THIS NEW CAR, AND PLENTY TO EAT!

IT'S WONDERFUL, MOM! I HOPE YOU HAVE YOUR KEY SO WE WON'T HAVE TO WAKE UNCLE JONATHAN! THE HOUSE IS DARK!

MYRA NORTH, SPECIAL NURSE

LEAVING HUGO, THE CHAUFFEUR, ON THE BED, JACK STEPS OUT INTO THE HALL WHERE HE FINDS MYRA BENDING OVER, DR. JASON

YOU SAY SOMEBODY SOCKED YOU? WHO?

I DON'T KNOW, BUT I'M SURE WE'RE ALL IN GRAVE DANGER!

I THINK I KNOW WHO'S IN BACK OF ALL THIS RUMPUSS, AND WHY! I'M GOING TO FIND THAT PHONY BUTLER!

No Time For Words

WAIT—I WANT TO GO WITH YOU! KAY MAY BE IN DANGER, TOO!

COME ALONG THEN! AND TAKE THIS GUN! MYRA WOULD BETTER STAY AND LOOK AFTER HUGO

THE HOUSE SURE IS QUIET! SEEMS TO BE DESERTED—

BE STILL, DOC! YOUR GUN!

OUT OUR WAY

By WILLIAMS

I DON'T SEE WHAT GOOD IT DOES TO STEAM 'EM OPEN—WE HAVE TO TAKE 'EM HOME JUST TH' SAME

YOU DON'T JUMP INTO TH' BATH TUB WITHOUT FEELIN' TH' WATER, DO YOU? WELL, I WANT TO KNOW WHAT I'M GONNA HAVE TO SAY BEFORE I SAY IT—I'M NO FAST THINKER— HERE, GIT SOME WATER

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON.

By HAMLIN

WHAT DO I CARE ABOUT YER OL' DICTATOR? BAH! ALL RIGHT, NOW YOU RUN ALONG 'FORE Y'GIT HURT!

WE'LL PROBABLY ALL END UP IN A JAM, BUT COME ON, KID, IT'S TIME TO SCRAM!

THE PIT

By MARTIN

HAIRSHIRTS MY EYE! BOSH!

LAY OFF'N THIS KID!! GOSH SAKES, SUCH GOIN'S ON IN A CIVILIZED COUNTRY!

WHAT DO I CARE ABOUT YER OL' DICTATOR? BAH! ALL RIGHT, NOW YOU RUN ALONG 'FORE Y'GIT HURT!

WE'LL PROBABLY ALL END UP IN A JAM, BUT COME ON, KID, IT'S TIME TO SCRAM!

THE PIT

By CRANE

GET ME INTO BED, START A FIRE, AND LET ME DIE. OH, HOW I SUFFER!

MEANWHILE, THE REAL OWNERS OF THE HOUSE RETURN.

PAW! LOOK! THERE'S SMOKE COMIN OUT OF OUR CHIMNEY.

PROWLERS AGAIN! QUICK, EMMA, WHERE'S MY SHOTGUN? GIT THE SHERIFF!

By BLOSSER

YOU DON'T LIVE HERE ANY LONGER YOUR NEW HOME IS AT 1456 ELMWOOD RD. HOPE YOU DON'T MIND.

By THOMPSON AND COLL

THE HOUSE SURE IS QUIET! SEEMS TO BE DESERTED—

BE STILL, DOC! YOUR GUN!

Coach Gives Ball Players a Quiz

Some of Professor's Questions and Answers Are Given in Article

DURHAM, N. C.—(AP)—The old professor distributed mimeographed sheets titled "Final Examination in P. E. 59" and trumped out of the classroom.

Then Duke University's baseball players began swinging fountain pens with a flourish. Here was a quiz they could handle.

It was Jack Coombs' annual questionnaire for his athletes, who take a physical education course in baseball as part of their required college credits for graduation.

Prof. Coombs has been giving these tests since he came to Duke in 1923. They deal with techniques of positional play, hitting and fielding problems and often present case examples that call for imaginative thinking for the diamond students to extricate themselves from hypothetical situations.

A baseball writer once offered one of these questionnaires to the New York Yankees team and the Yankees spent hours of a road trip debating over the answers.

These tests, following a semester's classroom lectures and conversations, have made Duke's team a collection of smart youngsters. They've won a flock of titles, including last year's Southern conference championship.

In case you've forgotten, Coombs won 5 world series victories for Philadelphia, three of which were against the Chicago Cubs in 1910. In 1906 he pitched the longest American league game, winning a 24-inning tussle with the Boston Red Sox, 4-1.

Here are some of Professor Coombs' questions, with the answers:

Q. What is a shortstop's hardest fielding play?

A. A batted ball which bounds over the pitcher's head. This ball must be fielded on the rim, and the shortstop's throw to first base must be made under full speed, thrown from the awkward position in which he fields the ball.

Q. How would you play your infield under the following situations: deep or in close?

A. (1) Runners on first and third bases, second inning, no score, one out, eighth man in the batting order at the plate. (2) Runner on first base, one out, three runs behind, three balls and one strike.

Q. Should a pitcher vary the time between each pitched ball?

A. Yes, particularly if any base is occupied. If the pitcher does not vary the time he consumes in making his different deliveries, runners will be invited to steal bases.

Q. When should a catcher back up third base?

A. A catcher should never back up third base.

Q. What is a waste ball and why is it pitched?

A. A quick pitch so far away from the plate that it cannot be hit by the batter. It is thrown because the catcher has some defensive play in mind.

Q. What is the most difficult fielding play for a pitcher?

A. The swinging bunt. The ball is swung at very hard and is hit in such a manner that it rolls slowly close to the base line. The difficulty for the pitcher is to decide whether to let the ball roll with the hope it may go foul or pick it up for an almost impossible play at first base.

Q. What advice would you give your batsman under the following ball and strike situations? (1) Bases empty, two balls and no strike. (2) Runner on first, one out, no score, two balls and no strike. (3) Runners on second and third, one out, three balls and one strike.

A. (1) Hit. Try for a long hit to get into scoring position. (2) Hit the good ball, using possibly, the hit and run play. (3) Hit the good ball.

Southwest Record Set by Baylor Ace

Kirkpatrick Throws 27 Points Through Net; 18 in Last Half

WACO, Texas.—(AP)—Lanky Hubert Kirkpatrick, Baylor's goal shooting wizard, set a new all-time Southwest Conference basketball scoring record Monday night as the Bears trounced the Rice Owls, 54 to 44, clinching second place in the race.

Kirkpatrick canned 27 points, bringing his total for the year to 197, six more than Al Dietzel of TCU, who had the previous record of 191 made during the 1933 season. The Mart, Texas, youth put off to a slow start but regained his eye in the second half when he registered 18 tallies. Nine of his points were field goals and nine free tosses.

Baylor broke a 3-kill tie early in the game and after that Rice never seriously threatened the Bear lead. The Bruins were in front 24 to 13 at the end of the first half.

Once in the second half the Owls came in within five points of Baylor but it did not take the Bears long to sew up the contest on well placed shots by Kirkpatrick and Wilson White, who played a great game in his farewell appearance on the local court.

26 Young Men to Be Enlisted During March

The Navy Department has assigned the Navy recruiting station, Little Rock, a quota of 26 enlistments for the month of March.

These young men will be selected from the navy's waiting list, which includes accepted applicants from over the entire state, and will be enlisted on Friday, March 11th, and transferred the same day to the naval training station, San Diego, Calif., for three months recruit training before being assigned to duty or further special training.

Washington Basketball Team

Back row, left to right—C. C. Stuart, Harding Williams, Joe Booker, Sam Pittman, J. C. Conley.
Front row, left to right—Thorston Hulsey, Walter Williams, George Robertson.

Bartell Is Missing From Giant's Camp

Team Begins Hard Drill in L. S. U. Athletic Stadium

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)—With Shortstop Dick Bartell the only important absentee, the New York Giants began serious training Monday by going through a hard drill at the new Leche stadium on the Louisiana State University campus, described as the best training quarters ever provided for a metropolitan team.

The batters arrived Monday from Hot Springs, Ark., where they went through preliminary conditioning while the other players gathered from their homes for the first workout.

Fitcher Walter Brown, First Baseman Sam Leslie, Bill Lebrun and Tom Baker, rookie pitchers, were bruised in a taxi smashup coming from the station but all were able to take part in practice.

Hempstead Home Agent

Melva Bullington

The right amount of seed for the right amount of garden is a problem which Hempstead county home demonstration club members are now working out with pencil and paper and seed catalogues.

A garden for a family of four should be 100 feet square, and a plan for that size family and garden is suggested by P. T. Eaton, extension horticulturist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

These crops should be planted in rows 4 feet apart: Two rows of Portia Rico sweet potatoes planted 20 inches apart will require 120 plants; a row of White Spine or Davis Perfect cucumbers planted 30 inches apart will require one-half ounce of seed; a row of Early White Bush squash will call for one-half ounce of seed planted 36 inches apart; 50 Gulf State Market tomato plants, set 18 inches apart will provide early tomatoes, and a row of Marglobes should be planted for later use; a half row of California Wonder or Wordbeater pepper, set same as tomatoes, will require 35 plants, and the remainder of the row may be set to Black Beauty or New York Purple eggplant.

The rest of the garden may be planted in rows 3 feet apart. Two rows of sturdy in construction and design, and rich in color, while smaller rooms and furniture require smaller designs and brighter texture and color.

As a rule it is more economical to buy the best material that can be afforded, the specialist advises. Better colors and designs are found in higher or quality fabrics, and they will be attractive as long as they last. If the covers are to be used the year round, they should be made of material which closely resembles upholstery fabrics, such as rep, denim, cotton damask, hand-blocked linen, or tuxedo.

The most satisfactory fabrics are closely woven with a smooth surface which will not collect dust or let dust slip through.

An estimate of the yardage required should be made before selecting the material. Large designs, or a definite "up and down" design, require more yardage. Twice the width to go around the chair should be allowed for gathered ruffles, and three times the width for pleated ruffles. It is always advisable to shrink the material before making the covers, Miss Bates advises. Contrasting colors may be used in seam binding and cording to add interest.

Double stitched seams are the best, although any durable type may be selected she adds. A placket will be needed if the covers are to fit well. It may be closed by snaps or slide fasteners, although the slide fasteners will provide the more satisfactory.

It requires as much vision to wash the turnip greens and measure the soda for the cornbread as it does to read the paper, therefore, the kitchens should receive its full share in the electrification of farm homes.

A drop light on the end of a 4-foot cord is sufficient for the kitchen, and throws shadows all over the room, according to Mrs. Ida A. Fenton, extension economist, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

Light should be so placed as to light up the stove, the cabinet where the preparation takes place, and the serving counter. Several 100-watt globes are needed if they walls are light in color, and if they are dark the globes should be larger.

The dining room can very well be lighted with a ceiling light or fixture so hung that the shade will protect the eyes of the diner, Mrs. Fenton said. But in the living room there should be one or more floor or table lamps which will afford bright light for a reader or soft light for conversation. A dome ceiling light may be desired for a social group, but if one must divide between them, Mrs. Fenton recommends the floor or table lamps which may be plugged into convenient outlets and moved about the room.

Bedrooms need a ceiling light for general lighting, and in addition either bracket lights or "pin-it-up" lights at the dresser.

A 100-watt globe directly above the shaving mirror is considered satisfactory by some men, although lights on each side of the mirror are better. All steps in the house should be well-lighted for safety's sake, Mrs. Fenton declares.

There are many old type fixtures on the market, and the farm family should be certain they are not persuaded to purchase these, but should insist on having the best the market affords. Modern fixtures are available at reasonable prices, she points out.

Prizetaker or Yellow Globe Danvers

unions will take two ounces of seed spaced 3 inches apart, and one ounce of Danvers Half Long or Chantanny carrot seed will need the same spacing, one quart of Yellow Globe Danvers onion sets will plant a row. A half row of Detroit Dark Red or Crosby Egyptian beets will take one ounce of seed spaced 3 inches apart, and the row may be completed with one-leaved onion for early use. Another full row of turnips should be sowed several weeks later. A row of cabbage should be divided between the early Jersey Wakefield and the later Copenhagen Market, with the plants set 18 inches apart.

Three rows of potatoes, with 34 inches between each hill, will require 15 pounds of Bliss Triumph or Irish Cobbler seed.

Three rows of Stringless Greenpod or Bountiful bush beans will require 3 pints of seed if planted 2 to 3 inches apart. Plantings should be made at 2-week intervals to provide a longer harvest period, Mr. Eaton suggests.

A row of Henderson's or Burpee's bush beans may be added. Two pounds of Alaska English peas will provide an early crop. Another row of Lexington peas will provide later harvest.

The fast growing leaf vegetables should be planted at one end of the garden. These may include one row each of mustard and collards and a half row of lettuce, each requiring one-half ounce of seed. A half row of Scarlet Globe radishes will complete the garden, leaving a little room for any other favorite vegetables.

Other varieties than the ones named will do well, but these are the most common and are usually in stock locally, Mr. Eaton explained.

Even the furniture is coming in for a new spring "outfit" in the homes of Hempstead county home demonstration club members who are using slip covers as a means of protection or rejuvenation.

Making slip covers is by no means a simple task, but an amateur can produce attractive results if thought is given to choice of materials, proper placing of designs, good fitting, and strong seams, says Miss Sybil D. Bates, extension specialist in home industries, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture.

The rugs and curtains with which the covers are to be used must be considered as well as the furniture. Besides harmonizing with walls and floor coverings, the material must be in scale with the room and the furniture. Large rooms and large pieces of furniture require fabric which is

Leading Article Oaklawn Winner

7,000 Persons Attend the Opening of Oaklawn Racing Meet

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—(AP)—B. P. Woodson's Leading Article returned to form here Monday to win the $1000 Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin inaugural handicap featuring the opening of Oaklawn Park's annual 30-day spring meeting.

A colorful crowd of 7,000, including Gov. Carl E. Bailey and other state officials, saw the seven-year-old bay gelding win his first race in his last five outs, after having won five in a row at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans.

The Milky Way farm's Nation's Taste finished a length and a half behind Leading Article. Southland Beau was third by a neck.

Leading Article, a favorite with Nation's Taste, closed 6 to 5, and paid $17.00, $3.50 and $2.80 across the board. Nation's Taste paid $4.60 to place and $4.90 to show, while Southland Beau paid $5.70 to show.

Jockey Sammy Roberts got Leading Article away fast in second place and kept him close to the pace until he found an opening approaching the stretch turn. There he came through to take the lead and increased it steadily until the final furlong.

Leading Article's time of one minute, 8 seconds for the oaklawn course, 165 feet less than six furlongs, was only three-fifths of a second off the record now held by Patriotic.

Nation's Taste broke from the barrier on top and held on gamely against Leading Article's challenge during the last half of the race. Southland Beau broke slowly, but worked his way up between horses and closed with a rush, appealing, carrying top weight of 118 pounds, showed good speed for a half mile, but weakened under pressure in the drive, and finished behind Southland Beau.

Others finished in the following order: His Girl, the only filly in the race; Bright and Eearly, Max E. Cristate, Teddy Haslam, Just Frank, Black Sleeve and Monon Lad.

Jockey Sammy Williams, after riding a double victory in the earlier races, suffered a bad spill aboard Moon Sweep in the sixth. It occurred on the first turn as Moon Sweep turned toward the outside and collided with Spartan Lady, falling with the jockey.

Taken to the hospital, his condition was reported not serious. Substitutes took over his assignments in the seventh and eighth races. Williams is an apprentice.

The mutual handle Monday was $109,091 which was $21,000 over the opening day figure last year.

The results:

First race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Second race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Third race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Fourth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Fifth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Sixth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Seventh race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Eighth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Ninth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Tenth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Lack of oxygen is regarded as a frequent factor in airplane accidents and so Dr. Baruch urges commercial transport companies to adopt compulsory oxygen inhalation for pilots navigating at 10,000 feet or over.

Leading Article Oaklawn Winner

7,000 Persons Attend the Opening of Oaklawn Racing Meet

HOT SPRINGS, Ark.—(AP)—B. P. Woodson's Leading Article returned to form here Monday to win the $1000 Mayor Leo P. McLaughlin inaugural handicap featuring the opening of Oaklawn Park's annual 30-day spring meeting.

A colorful crowd of 7,000, including Gov. Carl E. Bailey and other state officials, saw the seven-year-old bay gelding win his first race in his last five outs, after having won five in a row at the Fair Grounds in New Orleans.

The Milky Way farm's Nation's Taste finished a length and a half behind Leading Article. Southland Beau was third by a neck.

Leading Article, a favorite with Nation's Taste, closed 6 to 5, and paid $17.00, $3.50 and $2.80 across the board. Nation's Taste paid $4.60 to place and $4.90 to show, while Southland Beau paid $5.70 to show.

Jockey Sammy Roberts got Leading Article away fast in second place and kept him close to the pace until he found an opening approaching the stretch turn. There he came through to take the lead and increased it steadily until the final furlong.

Leading Article's time of one minute, 8 seconds for the oaklawn course, 165 feet less than six furlongs, was only three-fifths of a second off the record now held by Patriotic.

Nation's Taste broke from the barrier on top and held on gamely against Leading Article's challenge during the last half of the race. Southland Beau broke slowly, but worked his way up between horses and closed with a rush, appealing, carrying top weight of 118 pounds, showed good speed for a half mile, but weakened under pressure in the drive, and finished behind Southland Beau.

Others finished in the following order: His Girl, the only filly in the race; Bright and Eearly, Max E. Cristate, Teddy Haslam, Just Frank, Black Sleeve and Monon Lad.

Jockey Sammy Williams, after riding a double victory in the earlier races, suffered a bad spill aboard Moon Sweep in the sixth. It occurred on the first turn as Moon Sweep turned toward the outside and collided with Spartan Lady, falling with the jockey.

Taken to the hospital, his condition was reported not serious. Substitutes took over his assignments in the seventh and eighth races. Williams is an apprentice.

The mutual handle Monday was $109,091 which was $21,000 over the opening day figure last year.

The results:

First race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Second race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Third race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Fourth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Fifth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Sixth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Seventh race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

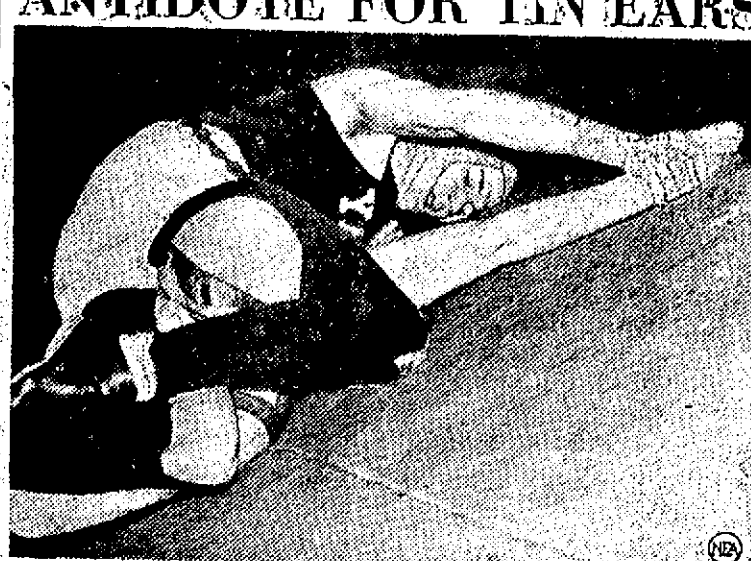

Eighth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Ninth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Tenth race (claiming, Oaklawn course, four year olds and up) Pounderburg (F. Grill) 7.40, 5.80, 3.40; My Auntie (S. Williams) 10.70, 6.30; Ramrod (G. South) 3.30. Time 1:09.

Lack of oxygen is regarded as a frequent factor in airplane accidents and so Dr. Baruch urges commercial transport companies to adopt compulsory oxygen inhalation for pilots navigating at 10,000 feet or over.

ANTIDOTE FOR TEN EARS

The well-dressed college wrestler takes steps these days to prevent cauliflower ears and other marks of battle, by donning bonnets such as worn above by Lou Hamman of Yale and Morgan Berthong of Penn, 125-pounders. Hamman is shown pinning his foe with a head scissors and bar arm.

7th Cage Title Is Won by Arkansas

Razorbacks Finish Conference Play With 12 Wins, 1 Defeat

By the Associated Press

Arkansas University deposited the Southwest Conference basketball championship in its trophy room Monday and left to its rivals the dull finish of what has been a fairly exciting fight.

Southern Methodist, defending champion, was in third place; Baylor, by winning at least one of its two remaining games, could hold its second place post. The remainder of the field, with unimpressive records, was scattered.

For Arkansas, which clinched the title by dropping Southern Methodist twice over the week-end, 32 to 23, and 34 to 26, it was a return to power and glory. The Razorbacks have won seven championships in 15 years and shaven another with S. M. U. and Rice.

The ties with the Methodists closed the season for Arkansas and its basketball careers of some of the most brilliant athletes of the past decade. Don Lockard, scoring champion last year wound up with 168 points, which may give him second place in the race this year. Playing with him for the last time were: Jack Robbins, brilliant guard; Jim Benton, forward partner of Lockard; Hamilton, center; Brady, guard, and two reserves, Donaldson and Chambers.

Arkansas finished with 12 victories and one defeat at the hands of Baylor; Baylor has won eight and lost two, and S. M. U. has won six and lost four. Baylor had a close squeak with Rice Saturday night, but won, 47 to 45.

Hubert Kirkpatrick, Baylor center, scored 17 points in the game with Rice and shot his season total to 170 points. With two games to play, he needs 22 points to break the mark set by Ad Dietzel of T. C. U. several years ago.

U. of Ark. 12 11 1 .917
Baylor U. 10 8 2 .800
South. Meth. 10 6 4 .600
U. of Texas 11 5 6 .455
Texas A. & M. 10 4 6 .400
Rice Institute 10 2 8 .200
Texas Chris. U. 1 1 10 .091

Week's Schedule
Monday—Rice vs. Baylor, at Waco.
Tuesday—Southern Methodist vs. Texas Christian, at Fort Worth.
Thursday—University of Texas vs. Texas A. & M. at College Station.
Saturday—Baylor vs. Southern Methodist, at Dallas.

Scoring Leaders
Kirkpatrick, Baylor 10 37 36 17
Lockard, Arkansas (f) 12 73 22 149
Robbins, Arkansas (f) 12 56 37 149
Norton, S. M. U. (f) 10 40 32 112
Tate, Texas (f) 11 42 27 111

Admiral Peary named and placed Crocker Land on the map. Years later, this "extensive northern land" was found to be a mirage.

The PAYOFF

By JERRY BRONDFIELD
NEA Service Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA—Maybe, some day, they'll strike a medal in honor of W. Austin Bishop, diminutive University of Pennsylvania wrestling coach, for his contribution to the arts. Assuming, of course, that the bonebending business is an art.

No longer do the college boys need to fear cauliflower ears and other marks of battle. Bishop's inventive frame of mind has produced a little bonnet intended to cure such badges of distinction.

Nor is this new headgear the brain child of the commercial world. Bishop doesn't want to make any money out of it; he merely wishes "to remove the stigma of professional wrestling from the college version of the pastime." And there you have it.

Bishop's bonnet is similar to an aviator's, but looks more like a bathing cap than anything else. Made of fabric it is reinforced at the sides with rubber sponge. The cap fits the skull close and is kept on by an adjustable strap under the chin.

Before Bishop turned up with his mat millinery, many college boys bound their heads with bandages to save themselves from "disfiguring marks which, mother, or the Saturday night date, might frown upon."

In order to further preserve the collegiate aspect of the sport, and remove it from mits association with the pro ranks, Bishop outlines a wrestling code for collegiate mat warfare.

There is no hold for punishment alone, and no hold is permitted which might endanger life or limb. Some of the holds specifically regarded as too dangerous for the boys are strangle holds, twisting hammerlock, toe hold, bending fingers, and a few others.

All of which at first prompts us to believe there's nothing much left for the boys to do except make fierce faces at each other.

Rough Stuff Out
Yet Bishop contends there are plenty of holds left in the collegiate repertoire of tricks. The aggressor still can use the legdrive or pick-up to toss his foe. There are also the "rides," including the waist and wrist, along with the two-to-one. Not to forget the Nelson combinations and bar-arm grips for the coupe d'grace.

On the defensive side

It's Snowshoe Time in Wintry Quintuplet Land

Emilie Becomes Web-Footed

(Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

Emilie sets forth on the great adventure, her first meeting with snowshoes. She looks just a little dubious as Nurse Noel attaches the big web to her foot, as though to say, "What a funny kind of thing to walk on!"

All Set for the Big Adventure

(Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

So far, so good! Emilie stands up while Nurse Noel completes the fastening of the snowshoe. "Why, this isn't going to be so bad, after all," Emilie reflects. "I think I can manage these all right." She's rarin' to go any minute now!

Mushing Along Like a Veteran

(Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

"Nothing to it!" Emilie seems to say as she strides boldly forth across the deep snow, just like an Indian guide in a northern frontier story. Notice that nonchalant air, the easy swing of her stride, and her pride of accomplishment.

Ooops! Not so Easy, After All!

(Copyright, 1938, NEA Service, Inc.)

But "pride goeth before a fall," and now something is all tangled up with those big flat snowshoes! Emilie stumbles, and is just in the midst of taking a header into a snowdrift as the camera clicks. And so winds up another winter adventure!

McClellan Enters Race for Senate

Will Oppose Mrs. Caraway and Candidate Rosser Venable

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—John L. McClellan, of Malvern, congressional representative from the sixth Arkansas district since 1935, announced his candidacy over the week-end for the United States senate seat now held by Mrs. Hattie W. Caraway of Jonesboro, who recently offered for re-election.

The 42-year-old McClellan, who celebrated his birthday Friday, made the announcement at his home at Malvern after a series of conferences with friends throughout the week. Earlier he had indicated he would withhold announcement of future plans until his return to Washington.

He was the third to announce for the senate seat Mrs. Caraway and J. Rosser Venable, Little Rock, having issued statements several weeks ago.

Open Collection Plate Brings 20 Per Cent Rise

FOPLAR, England.—(AP)—The Rev. Mr. Kenneth Ashcroft has no use for people who put a half-penny (one cent) in the collection plate when they can afford more.

"Such people should be slung out of the church, just as they would be slung out of any society if they refused to pay their 'sub' (subscription)," he declared recently.

He adopted a less severe way of dealing with the situation, however, than the canon who warned his flock he would throw all half-pennies in the collection into the street—and carried out his threat.

The Rev. Mr. Ashcroft simply put his congregation on the spot by substituting an open collection plate for the traditional collection bag which conceals the amount being given. And collections went up about 20 per cent, he said.

The hero of Longfellow's "Hiawatha" was a 16th century Mohawk Indian chief, though he appears in the poem as an Algonquian.

To Train Dogs For Blind CHICAGO.—(AP)—Bishop Bernard J. Sheil of the Chicago Catholic diocese has announced he will start raising and training dogs to lead blind boys and girls.

Two pairs of dogs are being imported from Germany and an expert in training the animals will be sent here.

The bishop said he would finance the training of four blind youths at the Seeing Eye Institute in Morristown, N. J., next summer and purchase dogs for them if they qualify to handle the animals.

The most disastrous defeat suffered by the Italians in the World war was inflicted by the Austrians at Caporetto.

Constipated?

"For 30 years I had constipation, awful gas, bloating, headaches and back pains. Adlerika helped right away. Now, I eat sausage, bananas, pie, anything I want. Never felt better." Mrs. Mabel Schatz.

ADLERIKA

JOHN S. GIBSON DRUG CO.

CHICAGO.—(AP)—There are enough cavities in the teeth of the American people to keep the country's 60,000 dentists busy for 100 years, Dr. Haidee Weeks of New Orleans told delegates to the Chicago Dental Society's convention.

To which the doctor added that the missing link between all this potential business and the dentist is educating the people to take the cavities to the dental chair.

Fine For Kidneys

Keeps Them Clean and Free From Poisonous Acids

When backache and bladder irritation gets you up two or three times every night better pay attention to kidneys. Don't start flushing them with harsh makeshifts, they are too frail and delicately constructed to treat them rough.

If you even suspect kidney trouble, don't delay, get a package of good old Ramon's Brownie Pills for the Kidneys—they are not expensive, only 35 cents—and so good that satisfaction is guaranteed or money back. —adv.

Dear Son:

We welcome you and Helen back from your honeymoon. After you've settled a bit, we'll drop in to see your new home.

I remember the day, some thirty years ago, when your Mother and I came back to our first home. I split kindling for the cast-iron kitchen stove, and it took Mother all afternoon to bake some bread. Instead of her vacuum-cleaner, Mother had a broom . . . and how she made it fly. But our prize possession was in the parlor . . . a real talking-machine, with chubby cylinder-records and a big morning-glory horn.

We used to march for miles all over town on our shopping trips. How I fidgeted while Mother shopped. We were both worn out.

Things have changed a lot since then, all right — and you'll both be better off for it. Helen won't have to spend half her days in the kitchen like Mother used to. The advertisements in the daily newspaper will save her those punishing miles of shopping. They'll keep her posted on current values, give her the names of dependable products, tell her all about special sales. When you come home nights you'll find her fresh as a daisy . . . ready for a jolly evening with your friends.

I'll trade the "good old days" for the good NEW days any day.

But enough of reminiscence . . . I rejoice in the exciting years of youth that are ahead for you both.

Affectionately,
Dad

HOW TO SLEEP GOOD

Many things disturb sleep. The most common is bladder irritation caused by excess kidney acids and other waste. Make this 4 day test. Your 25c back if not pleased. Flush the kidneys as you do the bowels. Help nature relieve the irritation that wakes you up. Just say Bukets 25c to any druggist. Locally at Briant's Drug Store and John S. Gibson Drug Co.

It's Easy To Be Mistaken About STOMACH TROUBLE

Stomach sufferers should learn the truth about ULCERS, GAS, ACID, INDIGESTION, belching, heartburn, constipation, etc., due to excess acid. FREE UDGA Booklet contains facts of interest. The 9th edition, just off the press, may prove your first step to happy stomach comfort! Clip this to remind you to ask for the UDGA Booklet at JOHN P. COX DRUG CO.

So They Say

Some of the statutory submitted for the Golden Gate Exposition would make strong men blush.—Harris Connick, general manager of the exposition.

The best form of peace insurance for the United States is to be able to repel any invader.—John J. Bennett, attorney general of New York state.

Color is an attribute of the male. It is meant for him.—Raymond G. Twayeffort, president of a national tailors' association, who predicts flaming colors for men's clothes this year.

I love my mother-in-law very, very much.—James Knight, New York City, who was arrested and released for speeding to her bedside.

I've been lucky. I don't like to drive fast—35 is fast enough.—Abram de Saint, Rochester, N. Y., who has driven for 25 years without an accident.

The eye is more than the mirror of the soul—it is also the mirror of the stomach. If your stomach's empty your eyes also will look empty.—Dr. Erna Laszlo, beauty expert.

Admiration of ladies must be brought up-to-date and adjusted to the problems of the times.—Arthur T. Vanderbilt, president, American Bar Association.

They can give me any kind of a part they want and I'll do my best to play it, but they can't keep the red hot mama in me from breaking out.—Sophie Tucker, actress, who doesn't like sedate roles.

I see no virtue in an artist being a regular fellow. If he appreciates his responsibilities, he can't be anything else.—Isidor Gorin, popular bantone.

SPEAKING OF SAFETY

—National Safety Council

CALL FOR COOK'S
THE SAME Good Beer FOR 85 YEARS

OVER FOUR GENERATIONS ago Cook's had "the call" as a good beer. Today, as then, Cook's still has "the call" wherever good beer is sold. Order a case.

F. W. COOK CO.
Evansville, Indiana

COOK'S
GOLDBLUME BEER

HOPE COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY
114 West Third Phone 392